Zlatko Hasanbegović

Ministar kulture Republike Hrvatske

Minister of Culture of the Republic of Croatia

Najveća će pozornica Pulskog filmskog festivala i ove godine pod zvjezdama pokazati poštovateljima filmske umjetnosti sve bogatstvo i životnost hrvatske kinematografije. Monumentalna antička Arena, u kojoj publika više od šezdeset godina gleda najbolje hrvatske filmove, izravan je podsjetnik na značenje čuvanja povijesti, njegovanja tradicije i kontinuiteta hrvatske kinematografije, ali i potrebe da se ona sagleda u kontekstu suvremenog trenutka. Hrvatski program 63. Pulskog filmskog festivala pokazuje da hrvatski film može na izazove suvremenosti odgovoriti širokim rasponom žanrova koje odlikuje iznimno slojevito promišljanje stvarnosti. Uz večernje projekcije hrvatskih i međunarodnih filmova, od kojih mnogi dolaze s preporukom priznanja na značajnim europskim i svjetskim festivalima, ovogodišnji program publici nudi i mnoštvo dnevnih događanja zbog kojih od 9. do 16. srpnja svakako treba biti u Puli. Festival svojim bogatim popratnim sadržajima nastoji odgovoriti potrebama nacionalne filmske proizvodnje pa je Pula PROfessional svoj program tematski posvetio scenariju kao bitnom segmentu filma. Intrigantna tema pretočena u vrhunski scenarij temelj je svakoga uspješnog filma pa će niz okruglih stolova i predavanja biti prilika da stručnjaci razmijene iskustva o najboljim načinima oblikovanja filmske priče. Pulski festival jedinstvena je filmska manifestacija od nacionalnog značenja. Njegov najistaknutiji dio i ove godine predstavlja Hrvatski program sa 16 dugometražnih i 18 kratkometražnih filmova, a posebno treba istaknuti izbor najboljih hrvatskih cjelovečernjih filmova snimljenih u proteklih dvadeset i pet godina u ovogodišnjem programu Kinoteke. Ovogodišnje, 63. izdanje Pulskog filmskog festivala bogatim programom iznova pokazuje pripadnost hrvatske kinematografije i filmske umjetnosti europskome filmu. Ministarstvo kulture pruža i pružat će kontinuiranu potporu festivalu kao središnjem mjestu promidžbe hrvatske filmske umjetnosti i mjestu susreta filmskih umjetnika i djelatnika. Svim filmskim umjetnicima i djelatnicima želim uspješno održavanje 63. Pulskog filmskog festivala!

This year once again, the largest open-air stage of the Pula Film Festival will demonstrate all the richness and vivacity of Croatian cinema. The monumental ancient Arena, where the best Croatian films have been showcased for more than sixty years, is a direct reminder of what preserving history, cherishing tradition and cinema continuity means. However, it is also a reminder of the need for it to be viewed in the context of present times. The Croatian Programme of the 63rd Pula Film Festival demonstrates how Croatian film can respond to contemporary challenges with a wide array of genres characterized by an extremely layered conception of reality. Alongside evening screenings of Croatian and international films, many of which have been recognized at significant European and world festivals, this year's programme encompasses a number of daily events that make Pula worth visiting between 9 and 16 July. With its array of side programmes, the Festival is trying to respond to the needs of the national film production. The Pula PROfessional programme is dedicated to screenwriting as an important film segment. An intriguing idea turned into an excellent screenplay is the foundation of every successful film. With that in mind, a series of round tables and lectures will present an opportunity for experts to exchange experiences regarding best ways to create a film story. The Pula Festival is a unique cinematic event of national importance. Its most prominent element is the Croatian Programme with 16 feature films and 18 short subjects. Moreover, we have to mention the selection of best Croatian feature films in the past twenty five years that will make up this year's Cinematheque. The rich programme of the 63rd Pula Film Festival once again demonstrates that Croatian cinema and cinematic art belong to European film. The Ministry of Culture has been continually supporting the Festival as a central place for the promotion of Croatian cinema and a place of encounter between filmmakers and will continue to do so in the future. I wish all the filmmakers a successful 63rd Pula Film Festival!

Pulski filmski festival danas je najposjećenija kulturna manifestacija u Hrvatskoj te ujedno i najstariji hrvatski filmski festival koji ove godine obilježava svoje 63. izdanje. Pulski filmski festival još od 1953. godine kontinuirano posjećuje Pulu i stvara je centrom filmske zabave u ovom dijelu Europe. Vjerna publika, okružena rimskim zidinama, reflektorima, bogatim nacionalnim i međunarodnim programom, uživa u filmu pod zvijezdama i time stvara tradiciju kojoj se raduju gledatelji svih životnih dobi. Značenje ovog festivala za Pulu i Istru od samih je početaka od neprocjenjive kulturne i društvene važnosti, a svojom kontinuiranom kvalitetom ostvario je značajan utjecaj u domaćoj filmskoj proizvodnji i na europskoj razini. Kao istarskom županu, iznimna mi je čast uočiti takvu predanost i kontinuitet sedme umjetnosti pa s ponosom mogu reći da festival ne promovira samo Pulu već i cijelu Istru, dodatno jačajući našu regionalnu posebnost i prepoznatljivost. Drago mi je vidjeti nova filmska ostvarenja i siguran sam da će festival i ove godine nadmašiti sva svoja očekivanja. Čestitke organizatorima na trudu i kreativnosti, a svim sudionicima i vjernoj publici želim nezaboravne trenutke!

The Pula Film Festival is the most popular cultural event in Croatia and at the same time the longest-running Croatian film festival that will mark its 63rd edition this year. Since as far back as 1953, the feature film festival has been visiting Pula and transforming it into the centre of film entertainment in this part of Europe. Surrounded with the Roman walls, reflectors, and a rich national and international programme, a faithful audience enjoys the film beneath the stars, establishing a tradition that spectators of all age groups are looking forward to. From the very beginning, the importance of this festival for Pula and Istria is of invaluable cultural and social importance and it has made an impact both on national and European film production due to its unchanging quality. As the Istria County prefect, it is an honour to witness such dedication and cinematic continuity, and I can proudly say that the Festival promotes both Pula and all of Istria, further strengthening our regional specificities and distinctiveness. I am happy to be able to watch new films and I am sure the Festival will once again surpass all expectations. I would like to congratulate the organizers for their effort and creativity. Let the participants and the faithful audience experience unforgettable moments!

Dragi sugrađani i sugrađanke, cijenjeni gosti i dragi prijatelji filma!

Zahvaljujući čarobnom spoju filmske umjetnosti i povjesne Pule koji traje već 63. godinu, danas smo nadaleko prepoznati kao sredina najstarijeg nacionalnog filmskog festivala na svijetu. Nebrojeno je mnogo filmskih junaka i priča prošetalo ekranima Pulskog filmskog festivala u gotovo idiličnoj atmosferi rimskog amfiteatra i noćnog neba ispunjenog zvjezdama. Pula je, a uz nju i nezaobilazna Arena, i ove godine domaćin kulturne manifestacije koja je najveći istarski grad velikim slovima upisala na europsku kartu najznačajnijih kulturnih manifestacija ove vrste. Upravo zahvaljujući popularnosti ovog festivala, ime Pule nezaustavljivo putuje u svim pravcima širom Starog kontinenta povezujući dubokim vezama identitet grada uz filmsku umjetnost. Ovoljetno 63. izdanje festivala još će jednom okupiti mnogobrojne eminentne predstavnike filmske čarolije na jednome mjestu, ali i vjernu publiku, istinske ljubitelje "sedme umjetnosti". Uvјeren sam da će festival opravdati sva svoja očekivanja i da će ljubitelji filma svih generacija uživati u najljepšem kinu pod zvjezdama. Dobro došli u Pulu!

Dear Pula citizens, respected visitors and film enthusiasts,

Thanks to the magical connection between cinema and our historic Pula, which spans 63 years, we are known as the hosts of the world's oldest national film festivals far and wide. Countless film heroes and stories have walked the Pula Film Festival screens in an almost idyllic atmosphere of the Roman amphitheatre and a starry night sky. This year once again, Pula and its Arena will host the cultural event that has placed the largest town in Istria on the European map of the most significant cultural events of this type. Thanks to the popularity of the festival, the name of Pula has been travelling in all directions across the Old Continent closely intertwining the identity of the town and cinema. This year's 63rd edition of the Festival will once again gather a large number of eminent representatives of film art but also the faithful audience, the true lovers of the Seventh Art. I am convinced that the Festival will fulfil all the expectations and that film enthusiasts of all ages will enjoy in the most beautiful cinema beneath the stars. Welcome to Pula!

Umjetnički savjet Pulskog filmskog festivala

Artistic Board of Pula Film Festival

Dobro došli na ovogodišnji pulski festival. U svjetlu sve kvalitetnije hrvatske kinematografije – a dokaz za to uspjesi su na “A festivalima” širom svijeta – sa zadovoljstvom predstavljamo ne samo ovogodišnje najbolje radove iz zemlje nego i selekciju filmova čija kvaliteta nadilazi sva očekivanja. Dakako, to je pitanje trenutka (sljedeće godine gledat ćemo ključne filmove koje ove godine nismo mogli vidjeti, a na putu su prema ostvarenju međunarodnoga uspjeha), no svakako i posljedica stalnog poboljšanja kontrole kvalitete u okviru HAVC-a, koji je omogućio niz filmova koji su osvojili nagrade na međunarodnim festivalima ili postali hitovi u regiji. Radujemo se ostvarenju sličnih rezultata i u nadolazećim godinama. Na međunarodnom planu odlučili smo se za probranu selekciju filmova. Nismo išli linijom manjeg otpora i predstavili velikane neovisnog filma kao što su Almodóvar, braća Dardenne, Jarmusch ili Loach jer to može učiniti svatko tko ima novac. Takvi se filmovi obično ustupaju najvišem ponuđaču. Odabrali smo drugi put. Stvorili smo krhknu mrežu pomno odabralih filmova, čipkani rad sačinjen od tema i ideja, poeziju i umjetnost koje povezuju formu i sadržaj najrazličitijih glasova iz cijelog svijeta. Almodóvar i ostali doći će nešto kasnije u naša kina, no u našem međunarodnom programu, bilo u programima Pulica i Dizalica ili u našoj regionalnoj selekciji posvećenoj susjedima i prijateljima, željeli smo prikazati rijetke bisere koje naša publika u budućnosti neće imati priliku gledati na velikom platnu. Smatramo da je od izuzetne važnosti posvetiti se mladima i djeci jer tako gradimo buduću filmsku publiku – publiku koja će biti upoznata sa širokom paletom tema i pokreta u svjetskoj kinematografiji – te svježe i okrepljujuće nove glasove. Jedan od tih novih glasova filmovi su redateljica, kojima smo ove godine posvetili posebnu pozornost. Činjenica je da žene, prije svega redateljice, dobivaju manje prilika u svijetu filma, i to treba osvijestiti. Ovogodišnju Pulu otvaraju i zatvaraju redateljice, retrospektiva je posvećena jednoj od najvažnijih europskih redateljica, a gotovo polovicu filmova u međunarodnom natjecateljskom programu režirale su žene. One manje snimaju, no to ne znači da njihovi filmovi manje vrijede – ove se godine u Puli možete lako u to uvjeriti. Variety ove godine ovako komentira Pulu: “Međunarodni program uključuje neke od filmova koji su se istaknuli na ovogodišnjim festivalima.” Screen International piše sljedeće: “Festivalski međunarodni program bit će eklektična mješavina kinouspješnica i nezavisnih filmova.” U posljednjoj godini našeg mandata, kao članovi Umjetničkog savjeta, nadamo se da ćemo na radost naše vjerne pulske publike, hrvatske kinematografije i sve većeg popisa domaćih gostiju, koji smo nadopunjavali iz godine u godinu, ponuditi dobar program. Vjerujemo da smo u ove tri godine, od filmskog susreta koji sa sjetom zaziva prošlost, napravili uspješnu transformaciju Pulskog filmskog festivala u dobro balansiran, zaokružen i atraktivan festival koji se ne boji za svoju budućnost. Uživajte u filmu pod zvjezdama!

Welcome to this year's Pula selection. With the recent rise in quality of the Croatian cinema, as witnessed by its various successes at "A-list festivals" around the world, we are delighted to present to you not only the best in Croatian cinema this year, but a line-up of films whose quality is above and beyond the usual call of duty. This is of course a matter of timing (and, indeed, we will benefit next year from the key omissions of this year who are headed for greater international glory) and indeed the result of the sustained improvement in quality control at the national funder HAVC, who have made possible a series of films that have been prize winners at international festivals, or regional hits. We wait with bated breath in hope of similar results in the following years. On the international front, we have opted for a highly curated panorama of international cinema. We haven't gone the simple route and just bought up the usual art house heroes like Almodóvar, brothers Dardenne, Jarmusch or Loach – anyone who has money can do that since those films always go to the highest bidder. We chose the other path. What we have done is created a delicate web of selection, a lace-lattice work of themes and ideas, poetry and artistry that blend together form and content from a wide variety of voices from across the globe. Almodóvar, and the gang will come to us in our cinemas later in the year – but here in our international selection, whether it is in the youth sections Pulica and Dizalica or our regional sections friends and neighbours, we want to show a series of rare gems that our audiences will have little chance of seeing in the future on the big screen. Also, we find crucial our work with youth and children since that way we will build our cinematic audience for the future – an audience that will be familiar with a wide variety of themes and movements in global cinema – as well as a fresh and invigorating variety of voices. One of those new voices are films made by female directors to whom we have dedicated special attention this year. The fact is that women, primarily film directors, get less chances and that is something we have to be aware of. This year's Pula will be opened and closed by female directors, the retrospective is dedicated to one of the most important European directors and almost half of international competition films were made by female directors. Women make less films but that does not mean their works are less valuable – you can witness that first hand in Pula this year. Variety wrote this year of our selection: "The international competition will include some of the year's fest-circuit standout films", while Screen International wrote: "The festival's international strand will be an eclectic mix of blockbusters and arthouse films". In the final year of our mandate as Artistic Board members, we hope to deliver this and much more to our faithful audience, the Croatian film industry and the growing national guest list whose quality we have built up year on year. We believe that in these three years we have successfully transformed the Pula Film Festival from a film encounter invoking the past with melancholy into a balanced, well-rounded and attractive festival that does not fear its future. Happy viewing under the stars!

Dragi prijatelji filma!

Čast mi je i radost s vama podijeliti novu kinematografsku svečanost, dopunjena sadržajem zanesenjačke ideje koju od 1954. godine do danas, čini se, dijele poneke naoko nesavladive poveznice. Iako otada znatno tehnološki i programski izmijenjen, nedvojben je trajni zajednički svod i blagonaklone lučonoše koje nas svjetлом od začetne točke u tom društvu obasjavaju i slijede – zvijezde – i, naravno, film pod njima. U prigodama poput ove postoji jedinstvena i opet opća, kolektivna tajna koja je neizrecivo stalna i u konstantnoj mijeni, a to je osobno iskustvo formirano susretom podjednakih, sličnih ili, dapače, suprotnih očekivanja. Proizšla ona ujutro, na tiskovnim konferencijama, danju na radionicama, neopterećenim pak susretom u festivalskom centru ili noću u nezamjenjivom Amfiteatru, Festival u Puli spontano spaja bez privida sve dobromajernike jednom neraskidivom niti: filmom. Tu smo kako bismo zajedno stvarali povijest i bili sudionici drugačijeg, neobičnog i jedinstvenog događaja koji je bio, jest i bit će zabilježen na vremenskoj crti milijunske publike, autora, umjetnika, poklonika, ponekad na usputnoj i ponekad na konačnoj stanici. Iskrena mi je želja da pronađete svoj jedinstveni festivalski trenutak, odnosno da taj časak pronađe vas, te da se tako neraskidivo povežemo i kao prijatelji i kao neznaci. Dobro došli na 63. Pulski filmski festival, a sada... pssst! Projekcija počinje!

Dear friends of the cinema,

It is an honour and privilege to share with you this cinematic event, the enthusiastic idea shared from 1954 to this date by some seemingly incompatible ties. Although considerably changed in terms of technology and programme since then, there is an undeniable permanent common arch and benevolent torchbearers that have been casting their light and following us – the stars – and, of course, films beneath them. On occasions such as this one, there is a unique but then again general, collective secret that is either permanent or in constant change. The secret in question is a personal experience formed by meeting equal, similar or contrary expectations. Irrespective of whether they happen in the morning, at press conferences, at workshops, during a casual encounter at the Festival Centre, or in the evening in the irreplaceable Amphitheatre, the Festival in Pula has been connecting people spontaneously, offering them an unbreakable link: the cinema. We are here to make history together and to participate in a different, unusual and unique event that has been and will be marked on the timeline of the audience, authors, artists, enthusiasts, sometimes on an incidental and sometimes on the final destination. May all of you find your unique festival moment or may that moment find you. Let's connect in that unbreakable way both as friends and strangers. Welcome to the 63rd Pula Film Festival! And now, hush! The screening is about to start!

Susjedi i prijatelji

Neighbours and Friends

Susjedi i prijatelji posebna je programska cjelina koja obuhvaća dugometražne filmove iz država koje su na neki način bliske Hrvatskoj. Njih prije svega okuplja nagrada za najbolji dugometražni "susjedski" film, a odabrani su iz već postojećih festivalskih programa. Za nagradu se tako natječu sve manjinske koprodukcije iz hrvatskog programa i neki filmovi iz međunarodnog programa, Dizalice i Pulice. Potražite znak SIP uz film i znat ćete da je riječ o našim dragim susjedima i prijateljima – gdje god oni bili.

Neighbours and Friends Programme is a special section comprising feature films from countries that are connected to Croatia in a certain way. First of all, films are brought together by a best neighbouring feature film award and they were selected from the already existing festival programmes. All minority co-productions from the Croatian Programme and some films from the International Programme, Dizalica and Pulica compete for the award. Look for the SIP sign and you will know that this is our dear neighbour and friend – wherever they may be.

Márta Mészáros

Počasna zlatna arena

Honorary Golden Arena

Počasne zlatne arene ne dodjeljuju se ni često ni olako. No Umjetnički savjet i Vijeće Pulskog filmskog festivala odlučili su se upravo ove godine na taj čin. Odluka je bila laka jer nam u goste dolazi Márta Mészáros, redateljica kojoj je posvećen retrospektivni program. Ona je jedna od najznačajnijih europskih i svjetskih redateljica. Prva je redateljica koja je režirala dugometražniigrani film u Mađarskoj i prva je žena nagrađena na Berlinaleu. Márta Mészáros i njezini filmovi uistinu su mijenjali svijet, a velika je sreća za cijelokupnu filmsku javnost da u svojem poslu i pozivu još uvijek uporno prkosí mirovini. Jednostavno: istinski umjetnici ne poznaju značenje riječi mirovanje. Hvala im na tome, hvala joj na svim filmovima koje je snimila i koje će tek snimiti. Vjerujemo da će Počasna zlatna arena Márti Mészáros, uz priznanja za sve napravljeno, biti poticaj i za nove filmske izazove.

Márta Mészáros (1931.) po završetku studija na moskovskoj Međunarodnoj filmskoj školi VGIK vraća se u rodnu Mađarsku gdje počinje snimati uglavnom dokumentarne filmove. Njezin prvijenac Djevojka (1968.) prvi je mađarski film u režiji žene. Godine 1975. svojom dramom Usvojenje osvaja Zlatnog medvjeda u Berlinu i tako postaje prva žena dobitnica te nagrade. Tim filmom privlači međunarodnu pozornost. Njezin sljedeći film, Devet mjeseci (1976.), osvaja nagradu FIPRESCI u Cannesu, a Dnevnik mojoj djeci, koji je dvije godine bio blokirani u Mađarskoj, osvaja Grand Prix u Cannesu 1984. godine. Poluautobiografsku seriju filmova započetu 1984. godine crno-bijelim ostvarenjem Dnevnik mojoj djeci nastavlja trima filmovima u boji, Dnevnik mojim ljubavima, Dnevnik mojim roditeljima i Mala Vilma: Posljednji dnevnik. Intimne priče prožima političkim zbivanjima, a događaje prikazuje iz perspektive djevojčice koja se nakon rata i gubitka roditelja vraća u Mađarsku gdje se suočava s poststaljinističkim društvom u kojem su svi potencijalni sumnjivci.

Honorary Golden Arenas are not granted frequently or for no special reason. However, this year the Pula Film Festival Artistic Board and Council have decided to grant it. This was an easy decision because our guest is Márta Mészáros, the director to whom we have dedicated this year's retrospective programme. She is one of the most significant European and world directors and the first female director to direct a feature length film in Hungary and the first woman to be awarded at Berlinale. Márta Mészáros and her films have been changing the world indeed and the entire film community can feel fortunate that she has been persistently defying retirement. Simply put, true artists don't know how to be at rest. We would like to thank her for all the films she has made and she will make in the future. Alongside honoring her for all she has done, we believe that the Honorary Golden Arena will encourage Márta Mészáros to face up to new cinematic challenges.

After completing her studies at the Moscow International Film School VGIK, Márta Mészáros (1931) returned to her native Hungary where she began by mainly making documentaries. Her debut feature film, The Girl (1968), was the first Hungarian feature film directed by a woman. In 1975 she received the Golden Bear at the Berlinale for her drama, Adoption. She was the first woman ever to win the Golden Bear. The film marked her international breakthrough. Her next film, Nine Months (1976), won the FIPRESCI prize in Cannes, and Diary for My Children, blocked for two years inside of Hungary, won the Grand Prize at the 1984 Cannes Film Festival. Semi-autobiographical, the series that she launched in 1984 with the black and white Diary for My Children was followed by three other colour films, Diary for My Lovers, Diary for My Mother and Father and Little Vilma: The Last Diary. She combines intimate stories with politics, showing events through the eyes of a young girl who went back to Hungary after the war, following the death of her parents, and confronted with a post-Stalinist society where suspicion runs rampant.

Vera Zima

Nagrada Fabijan Šovagović

Fabijan Šovagović Award

Vera Zima, rođena ranih 1950-ih na jugu Dalmacije, još nije ispunila "standardne" uvjete za odlazak u mirovinu, a ni nagrade za životno djelo obično se ne dijele u njezinoj dobi. Ipak, iza dobitnice Nagrade Fabijan Šovagović golemo je glumačko iskustvo i nekoliko desetljeća umjetničkoga staža tijekom kojih je prevalila put od vrckave histrionke prodorne dikcije, praćene dečkima iz svoje akademske glumačke klase u kazališnim i televizijskim Baladama Petrice Kerempuha, do kućanice i majke okružene čangrizavim mužem i odraslim djeecom koja se ne daju otrgnuti od roditeljske kuće u televizijskoj seriji Odmori se, zasluzio si (2006. – 2013.). Vera Zima pet je prikazivačkih sezona i nešto više produkcijskih godina živjela pod imenom Ruža Kosmički u fikcionalnom produžetku dnevnih boravaka onih malih, "običnih" televizijskih pretplatnika, uvjerivši ih iz prve – bez prikrivanja podočnjaka, peglanja bora ili hinjene neposrednosti – da je tek jedna od njih, obična žena iz prekrcana tramvaja ili prigradske tržnice koju doma još čekaju i četiri "kantuna od kuće". Već po filmskim zanimanjima i imenima koje su joj nadjevali prije vjerojatno najdugovječnije dramske serije u povijesti hrvatske televizije, ugašene njezinim dobrovoljnim povlačenjem s malih ekrana, lako je zapaziti da je Ruža Kosmički tek jedna u nizu sličnih uloga ove glumice s "narodskim" filmskim imenima. Čak dva puta bila je majčinski blaga Kata – jednom kod Vrdoljaka (Duga mračna noć, 2007.), drugi put kod Svilicića (Oprosti za kung fu, 2004.), zatim brižna teta Zora kod Schmidta (Metastaze, 2009.), prodavačica Štefica kod Matanića (Blagajnica hoćeći na more, 2009.), susjeda Mara kod Biljane Čakić (Korak po korak, 2011.), baka kod Aćimovića (Moraš spavat, andele, 2007.). Redatelji su je voljeli doživljavati kao idealnu konobaricu, prodavačicu, kontrolorku i kumicu... Češće se nalazila u zapećku patrijarhalnoga svijeta ili na marginama kakve ruralne priče negoli u središtu zapleta suvremene urbane drame, poput Hadžićeva Novinara (1979.) ili Berkovićevih Ljubavnih pisama s predumišljajem (1985.) iz ranijih dana filmske karijere. Sve do televizijskog uzleta u novom tisućljeću rijetko je igrala glavne filmske uloge, ali je svojom rubnom pojavom filmski prikaz uvjek činila realističnijim, a prikazani svijet autentičnijim, bez obzira na to je li nasaden na zemlji ili na asfaltu. Učinak bi vjerojatno bio isti i da je tijekom proteklih četrdesetak godina bilo više "velikih" uloga za glumicu takva kalibra, poput nezaboravne Maše, nesretne seoske djevojke koja, baš kao i njezina prethodnica (Marija Kohn) kod Hanžekovića, pokušava ostati "svoga tela gospodar" u Vrdoljakovoj Mećavi (1977.). Serija Odmori se, zasluzio si samo je (privremeno) zatvorila taj fatalni tradicijski krug domaće fikcije u kojoj se žena često osjeća malom i nemoćnom, ali u kojoj interpretacije glumica poput Vere Zime postaju itekako velike i moćne.

Vera Zima, born in early 1950s in the south of Dalmatia, has still not fulfilled all the standard preconditions for retirement and it happens rather rarely that somebody her age receives a lifetime achievement award. However, the winner of the Fabijan Šovagović Award has plenty of acting experience, working for several decades in the field of arts, starting as a playful member of the Histrión Theatre Company with a penetrating voice, accompanied by the boys from her acting class in the television and stage versions of Ballads of Petrica Kerempuh, continuing as a housewife and a mother with a nagging husband and adult children who do not want to leave the family home in the TV series Get Some Rest, You Deserve It (2006 – 2013). Vera Zima has lived for five seasons and a couple of more production years under the name Ruža Kosmički in a fictional extension of living rooms of those ordinary television subscribers convincing them immediately – without covering her eye rings or wrinkles or faking directness – that she is one of them, an ordinary woman from a packed street car or a green market who has to go home where everyone is dependent on her. Already according to the fictional occupations and names that she had been given before the most probably longest running drama series in the history of Croatian television, which ended with her withdrawal from the television screen, it is easy to notice that Ruža Kosmički is just one in a series of similar roles of this actress with folksy cinematic names. She played the role of motherly Kata twice – first time for Vrdoljak (Long Dark Night, 2007) and second time for Svilicić (Sorry for Kung Fu, 2004), then the role of the caring aunt Zora for Schmidt (Metastases, 2009), cashier Štefica for Matanić (Cashier Wants to Go to the Seaside), neighbour Mara for Biljana Čakić (Step by Step, 2011), and that of a granny for Aćimović (I Have to Sleep, My Angel, 2007). Directors loved to perceive her as an ideal waitress, cashier, controller and seller of vegetables in the market. She has found herself much more often in the background of the patriarchal world or on the margins of a rural story than at the centre of a contemporary urban drama, such as Hadžić's Journalist (1979) or Berković's Love Letters With Intent (1985) from her early cinematic years. Up until her television rise in the new millennium, she had rarely played the leading roles but with her marginal appearances she had always made the cinematic presentation much more real and the presented world much more authentic, be it planted on land or asphalt. The effect would have probably been the same if there had been more "great" roles in the past forty years for such an actress, such as the unforgettable Maša, an unfortunate village girl who, just like her predecessor (Marija Kohn) with Hanžeković, tries to stay the master of her own body in Vrdoljak's Snowstorm (1977). The series Get Some Rest, You Deserve It has only (temporarily) closed that fatal traditional circle of national fiction where women very often feel small and powerless but where appearances of actresses such as Vera Zima become all too big and powerful.

Pero Kvesić, Dum spiro spero

Nagrada Vedran Šamanović

Fabijan Šovagović Award

Dum spiro spero nastao je na neočekivanom, ali kako se pokazuje, vrlo plodnom sjecištu dokumentarističkog žanra filmskog eseja i vloga, internetskog audiovizualnog dnevnika koji kod većinski tinejdžerskih autora i recipijenata funkcioniра kao svojevrsni selfie u vremenu. Kvesićev selfie u vremenu tu formu koristi iznimno uspješno, hipnotički uvlačeći gledatelja u svoju svakodnevnicu i svjetonazorske kontemplacije. Kada se govori o filmu, dokumentarnom ili igranom, često se pomalo prezirno gleda na odveć naglašenu ulogu naratora, odnosno na polaženje iz verbalnog, a ne iz slikovnog, kao onog specifično filmskog. Filmski esej je žanr koji vrlo zanimljivo tretira odnos pripovjedača i slike, ne prepostavljajući jedan od tih kanala drugom, gradeći među njima višesmrjerne odnose. Te su kvalitete u ovom filmu posebno razvidne. Sav vizualni materijal snimljen je neprofesionalnom kamericom u slabijoj kvaliteti i lo-fi estetici kućnoga videa, „prljav“ je, heterogen i ne oslanja se na raskošna, specifično filmska vizualna sredstva. Ipak, film je u svoj toj „nepočešljanošti“ iznimno kompleksan i dramaturški gotovo savršen. Njegova minuciozna sižejna struktura temelji se na sitnim svakodnevnim detaljima kojima uspostavlja višežnačan i plastičan svijet u koji bivamo uvučeni i napeto ga gledamo dok se pred nama odvija pažljivo istkana pripovijest. Odnos koji se stvara između komentara i slike u tradiciji je najboljih filmskih eseja: vrlo živ i značenjski potentan upravo zbog promišljene, a opet organske povezanosti koja prijeći prevlast jednog nad drugim. Također, iznimno se vješto izlaže protok vremena, uz snažan dojam njegove materijalnosti i opipljivosti, približen trajanjem kadrova, prikazivanjem banalnih radnji u cijelosti, minucioznim katalogiziranjem života. Autor kroz tako postignutu „konkretnost“ vrlo suptilno postiže općeniti esejski komentar života u vremenu odnosno njegove neumitne prolaznosti. Slično se zbiva na motivskoj razini – najprozaičnija svakodnevica vrlo se vješto i gotovo neprimjetno kombinira s eshatološkim temama smrti i smisla. Također, film i onom naruže dokumentarističkom kvalitetom uhvaćenosti autentičnog, neponovljivog trenutka bolno jasno komentira životnu prolaznost.

Ovogodišnji žiri djelovao je u sastavu: Hana Jušić (DHFR), Silvestar Milet (HDFK) i Diana Nenadić (HFS).

Dum spiro spero was created on an unexpected, but as it turned out, very fruitful intersection between the documentary genre of film essay and vlog, an online audiovisual diary that functions as a selfie in time with mostly teenage authors and recipients. Kvesić's selfie in time uses this form in a particularly successful manner, pulling viewers into his own day-to-day life and world-view contemplations in a hypnotic way. When talking about film, be it documentary or feature, the pronounced role of the narrator or the film being based on words and not images, as something specifically cinematic, is often regarded with scorn. The film essay is a genre that treats the relationship between the narrator and the image in an interesting fashion, not prioritizing one of the two channels but rather building multidirectional relationships between them. These qualities are particularly pronounced in this film. All visual materials were shot with an unprofessional camera as a poor quality and lo-fi aesthetics home video; it is dirty, heterogeneous and does not rely on luxurious, specifically cinematic visual elements. Nonetheless, the film is extremely complex and dramaturgically almost perfect in its "unkemptness". Its meticulous subject-matter structure is based on small everyday details that establish a multiple-meaning and plastic world in which we are dragged to watch it attentively as the well-knit story unfolds before us. The relationship between the comment and the image reminds of some of the best film essays: very lively and potent in terms of meaning precisely because of the deliberated yet organic connection which eliminates domination of any of the two. Moreover, the flow of time is expressed in a masterly manner, with a strong impression of its materiality and palpability, brought closer through frame duration, presenting trivial actions in their entirety and cataloguing life in a meticulous manner. With that concreteness, the author comes up with a general essayistic commentary of life in time or its unquestionable transience. A similar thing occurs at the level of motifs – the most prosaic day-to-day life is very skilfully and almost unnoticeably combined with eschatological topics of life. Furthermore, including with the most narrowly documentarist quality of catching the authentic and unrepeatable moment the film comments on the transience of life in a painfully clear manner.

This year's jury members: Hana Jušić (Croatian Film Directors' Guild), Silvestar Mileta (Croatian Society of Film Critics) and Diana Nenadić (Croatian Film Association).

Branko Linta, h.f.s. DOP Kosac The Reaper

Nagrada Nikola Tanhofer za dugometražni film Nikola Tanhofer Award for Feature Film

Slika Branka Linte u filmu Kosac imponira visokom estetiziranošću koja nije rezultat snimateljske težnje za samoisticanjem, već je sastavnica filmske cjeline i pokazuje se svrhovitom i dramaturški učinkovitom. Upečatljive igre svjetla i sjene te dojmljive likovne kompozicije potenciraju hladnoću svijeta kojim dominira tama, a u kojem izgubljeni tumaraju protagonisti, svjesni bezizlaznosti svoje situacije. Snimateljevo majstorstvo ponavlja dolazi do izražaja u kadriranju. Njegove su kompozicije čiste i odmjerene te potenciraju osjećaj usamljenosti protagonista. Potreba da svojim radom upotpuni i podigne fabulu na višu estetsku razinu ocrtavaju Lintu kao zrelog autora, tehnički besprijeckornog i vještog u kreiranju filmske fotografije koja je istodobno efektna i savršeno u skladu s potrebama filma.

Branko Linta's photography in the film The Reaper distinguishes itself with high aestheticism which is not the consequence of the cinematographer's wish to promote himself but rather an integral part of the film as a whole that proves to be purposeful and efficient in terms of dramaturgy. Distinctive light and shade movements and impressive visual compositions stress the coldness of the world dominated by darkness in which lost protagonists wander around, aware of the hopelessness of their condition. The cinematographer's masterly skills are primarily manifested through framing. His compositions are clean and measured and they intensify the protagonists' sense of loneliness. The need to complete and raise the plot to a higher level defines Linta as a mature author, technically flawless and skilful at creating the photography that is simultaneously striking and perfectly in line with the needs of the film.

Eva Kraljević DOP i redateljica DOP and director Lijepo mi je s tobom, znaš I Like That Super Most the Best

Nagrada Nikola Tanhofer za kratkometražni film Nikola Tanhofer Award for Short Film

Film Eve Kraljević izdvojio se cijelovitim i beskompromisnim pristupom. Autorica je intimnu priču dubokih i iskrenih emocija obogatila fotografijom koja promatra izbliza, ali ne nameće prisutnost. Ona budi interes i uvlači nas u priču. Film odlikuje vješt izbor kutova kamere, pokreta, mirovanja, oštarine, neoštarine i kompozicije kadra. Svjetlo je primjereni, prirodno i dosljedno. Riječ je o zrelom djelu talentirane autorice.

Eve Kraljević's film distinguishes itself with its comprehensive and uncompromising approach. The author enriched an intimate story filled with deep and honest emotions with a photography that observes closely but is not being obtrusive. It sparks our interest and pulls us into the story. The film is characterized by a skilful selection of camera angles, movements, steadiness, sharpness, lack of sharpness and frame composition. Lighting is appropriate, natural and consistent. The film is a mature work of a talented author.

Mario Sablić, h.f.s. DOP Crno-bijeli svijet Black and White World

Nagrada Nikola Tanhofer za TV seriju Nikola Tanhofer Award for TV Series

Uzdignuta na razinu društvenog fenomena, u kojemu je svatko uzeo pravo osvrta na eru 80-ih i "svoju" istinu o tom vremenu, priča o seriji Crno-bijeli svijet gurnula je u drugi plan umjetničke suradnike koji su oživjeli duh vremena. Upečatljiva scenografija i kostimografija savršeno su objedinjene u vrhunski komponiranoj fotografiji Marija Sablića. Promišljene i dojmljive kompozicije osebujne stilizacije i oblikovanje atmosfere jednog razdoblja iskazuju rad rafiniranog autora. To posebno dolazi do izražaja u interijerima, gdje svijetlom i toploškom tonskom skalom gradi karaktere, poštujući najviše standarde snimateljske profesije. Serija upravo zbog snimateljskog postignuća ostavlja dojam visoke produkcjske razine.

Raised to the level of a social phenomenon where everybody has taken the right to make a review of the 1980s and present their truth about those times, the story about the series Black and White World pushed into the background the artistic collaborators who brought to life the spirit of the time. Distinctive art direction and costuming are perfectly blended in a masterly composed cinematography by Mario Sablić. Prudent and impressive compositions characterised by distinctive stylizations and the creation of an atmosphere of a past period define the work of a refined author. This is especially manifested in his interiors where he uses lighting and a scale of warm tones to build characters, adhering to the highest cinematography standards. The series leaves the impression of superb production precisely because of its cinematography.

Autor filmom Generacija '68 ispisuje homage generaciji s kojom dijeli mladenačke zanose i ideju o revoluciji koja će promijeniti svijet, koja će biti realna i zahtijevati nemoguće. Ujedno propituje stvarne dosege tih promjena, na društvenom i, vjerojatno važnijem, osobnom planu. Lako je imati ideje, a učiniti ih vjerodostojnjima generacijama koje slijede – nešto teže. Odbacujući ideale '68. kao neostvarive, nove generacije stvaraju neke svoje, možda još iluzornije.

With his film Generation '68, the author makes an homage to the generation with which he shares his youthful enthusiasm and the idea about a revolution that will change the world, while being "realistic and demanding the impossible". At the same time he questions the true impact of these changes on social and – probably more importantly – private levels. Having ideas is easy; making them look credible to the generations that follow is somewhat more difficult. By rejecting the ideals of the 1968 as unworkable, new generations are coming up with some of their own, maybe even more unrealistic ones.

Nenad Puhovski diplomirao je sociologiju, filozofiju i režiju. Režirao je više od 250 produkcija u kazalištu, za veliko platno i televiziju. Godine 1997. osnovao je Factum, koji je ubrzo postao najutjecajnija nezavisna dokumentarna produkcija u Hrvatskoj. Producirao je više od 60 dokumentarnih filmova. Godine 2004. osnovao je ZagrebDox – najveći festival dokumentarnog filma u regiji, čiji je direktor. Osim u Zagrebu, gdje je pokrenuo novi dokumentaristički diplomski program, predavao je na mnogim školama i fakultetima. Godine 2009. dobio je nagradu EDN-a za izvanredan doprinos razvoju europske kulture dokumentarnog filma. Godine 2016. Motovunski filmski festival dodjeljuje mu Nagradu 50 godina.

Nenad Puhovski obtained a degree in Sociology, Philosophy and Film Directing. As a professional director, he has worked on over 250 theatre, film and TV productions. In 1997 he founded Factum, which soon became the most influential independent documentary production company in Croatia. He has produced over 60 documentary films. In 2004, he founded ZagrebDox – the largest documentary film festival in the region – where he continues to serve as director. In addition to teaching in Zagreb, where he launched a new MA documentary program, he taught documentary film in many schools abroad. In 2009 he won the EDN Award for "outstanding contribution to the development of European documentary culture". In 2016, the Motovun Film Festival awarded Puhovski with the 50 Years Award.

Puni udar moderna je priča o čovjeku koji je pogreškom iz daljinski upravljanog drona bombardirao školu prepunu nevine djece. Upravljući avionom daleko iz vojne baze, Ivan nikada nije bio u stranim zemljama svojih napada niti je ikad dotaknuo letjelicu koju koristi za ubijanje. Suvremeno ga ratovanje drži na sigurnom i daleko od svojeg plijena. Međutim, Ivan nakon incidenta počinje vlastitu isključenost primjenjivati na sve u životu. Ne može iz glave izbaciti one koje je ubio, a film se iz te točke razvija u putovanje u podsvjesno.

Full Contact is a contemporary tale of a man who accidentally bombed a school through a remotely operated drone plane. Ivan, operating the plane from a faraway air force base, has never been to the foreign countries of his attacks, nor has he ever touched the plane he uses to kill. Modern warfare keeps him safe and disconnected from his prey. However, after this incident, Ivan's disconnectedness starts to apply to everything in his life. He is unable to get the men he killed out of his head and from there on the narrative melts down to become a road movie of the subconscious.

Slastičarka Verica, opera pjevačica Brankica i Španjolac Martin glavni su junaci ove priče o usamljenosti i potrazi za ljubavlju. Uz njih, tu su i dvije medicinske sestre koje puno razmišljaju o muškarcima, poljoprivrednik neobičnih povrtarskih talenata, bolesna žena neobične seksualne orijentacije, ličilac koji jako voli "zgodne ženske". Njihove će sudbine ispreplesti slučajne okolnosti i nerješive situacije učiniti rješivima. Malo je vjerojatno da veliku ulogu u tome može odigrati grupica žohara, juha od cikle i opera aria, ali u ovoj će priči biti baš tako. Pastry-shop worker Verica and opera singers Brankica and Martin are the protagonists of this story about loneliness and search for love. We will also get to know two nurses who think a lot about men, one farmer with strange farming talents, a gravely ill woman of an unusual sexual orientation, a handyman who adores all "pretty women", and we will watch how an accidental series of events entwines their destinies and makes unsolvable situations solvable. It is unlikely that several cockroaches, beetroot soup and an opera aria can play an important role in all that, but in this story they do.

Snježana Tribuson diplomirala je filmsku i TV režiju na Akademiji dramske umjetnosti u Zagrebu. Plavi Trampolin. Bljeskavo nebo nad gradom. To je sjecište u kojemu se dotiču meandri naših priča. Sedmogodišnja Lina, bježeći od majke, susreće tinejdžericu Niku i četrdesetogodišnju Nikolinu. One kao dva ogledala zrcale Lininu moguću budućnost. Ta tri toka, tri ženska lika, isprepliću se u sličnoj životnoj sudbini. Susrećući jedna drugu, mijenjaju svoje živote i raskrinkavaju tajnu o bolnim rascjepima unutar svojih obitelji. Ovo je film o ljubavi, ali nije ljubavni film. Djevojčica je u potrazi za ljubavlju majke, djevojka od nje bježi, a majka pokušava naći ljubav za majčinstvo.

Blue Trampoline. Flashes of lightning over the city. That is the junction at which our meandering stories meet. Running away from her mother, a seven-year-old Lina meets a teenage girl Niku and a forty-year-old woman Nikolina, two mirrors into what Lina's own future might bring. The three female characters share a similar destiny. Their encounter will change their lives and reveal painful ruptures in their families. This is a film about love, but it is not a romance film. The little girl is seeking motherly love, the young girl is running away from it and the mother is trying to find love for motherhood.

Katarina Zrinka Matijević (Zagreb, 1973.) diplomirala je režiju na ADU-u te filozofiju i komparativnu književnost na Filozofskom fakultetu. U središnjem atenskom kazalištu odvija se premijera postmodernističke adaptacije klasične grčke tragedije. Svjetla se odjednom gase, a grupa naoružanih mladih ljudi dolazi na pozornicu, ispričava se na prekidu i poziva publiku na suradnju. Predstava se nastavlja, ali s jednom bitnom razlikom: život oponaša umjetnost, a ne obrnuto.

A postmodern theatre adaptation of a classic Greek tragedy takes place in a central theatre of Athens. Like every night, the audience take their seats and the play begins. Suddenly, the lights on stage go out. A group of young people, dressed in black and carrying guns, climb on stage. They apologise for the interruption and invite people from the audience to participate. The play resumes with a main difference; life imitates art and not the opposite.

Yorgos Zois (Atena, 1982.) premijerno je prikazao svoj debitantski kratkometražni film Casus Belli na Filmskom festivalu u Veneciji 2010. godine. Njegov drugi kratkometražni film, Out of Frame, premijerno je prikazan na Veneciji 2012. godine i osvojio je nagradu Europske filmske akademije za najbolji europski kratki film. Trema je njegov prvi dugometražniigrani film.

His second short film Out of Frame was premiered at the 2012 Venice Film Festival, winning the European Film Award for best European short film. Interruption marks his feature directorial debut.

Film Vrapci donosi priču o putovanju od nevinosti prema odrasloj dobi. Radnja se događa ljeti u izoliranom ribarskom selu na Islandu. Sunce u ovo doba godine ne zalazi tijekom noći. Šesnaestogodišnji Ari živio je s majkom u Reykjaviku, a onda ga iznenada šalju natrag ocu Gunnaru u daleki Westfjords. Ondje se mora nositi s teškim odnosom s ocem i sa spoznjom da su se njegovi prijatelji iz djetinjstva promjenili. Ari mora u ovim beznadnim okolnostima pronaći svoj put.

Sparrows is a journey from innocence to adulthood. It takes place during a summer in a remote, Icelandic fishing village, which is in decline. During the nights at this time of the year, it is a place where the sun does not set. 16-year-old boy Ari has been living with his mother in Reykjavik and is suddenly sent back to the remote Westfjords to live with his father Gunnar. There, he has to navigate a difficult relationship with his father, and he finds his childhood friends changed. In these hopeless and declining surroundings, Ari has to step up and find his way.

Obiteljska okupljanja sjajna su prilika za rješavanje starih svađa i započinjanje novih. Dva su velika obiteljska okupljanja prikazana u filmu: jedno je svadba, a drugo večera na Badnjak. Mladoženja, glavni junak, opušteni je džez trubač koji pokušava pomiriti oca mesara, brata kockara i majku, umirovljenu računovotkinju. Nesebičnu pomoć pružaju mu mlada supruga i njezini neobični roditelji.

Family gatherings are a perfect opportunity to settle some old scores and to start with new clashes. The film presents two large family gatherings: a wedding and a Christmas Eve dinner. The groom, the protagonist, is an easy going jazz musician who is trying to make peace between his father, a butcher, brother, a gambler, and his mother, a retired accountant. His young wife and her unusual parents generously offer their help.

Vaterpolo je hrvatski najtrofejniji sport, a tim iz 2012. godine osvojio je sve: europsko zlato, svjetsko zlato, olimpijsko zlato. No tada je otišao Ratko Rudić i nekoliko dugogodišnjih igrača, uključujući i kapetana momčadi. Sve je počinjalo ispočetka. Uz novog kapetana Josipa Pavića i novog trenera Ivicu Tucka ekipa kreće u nove pobjede. Utakmica s Crnom Gorom usred Zagreba mijenja pobjednički niz na koji su navikli, a utakmica s istim protivnikom na njihovu terenu, u Kotoru, mijenja sve... Kako će stići do svjetskog prvenstva u Barceloni?

Predstava je nastala prema romanu Pomutnje gojenca Törlessa Roberta Musila. U središtu je djela mladić Törless, suočen sa psihičkim i spolnim sazrijevanjem u vojnom internatu na rubu Habsburške Monarhije. Struktura Pomutnji čvrsto je određena trajanjem, tempom i dinamikom glazbenih partitura. Prvi dio predstave ritmički se oslanja na furioznu 2. simfoniju latvijskog skladatelja Peterisa Vasksa, a u drugom dijelu finalna scena Wagnerove opere Siegfried upozorava na pozadinske kontekste spolno i rodno pomućenih glavnih likova.

The play is based on the novel The Confusions of Young Törless by Robert Musil. The novel centres on a young man named Törless, faced with emotional and sexual development in a military boarding school on the periphery of the Habsburg Monarchy. The structure of Confusions is defined by the duration, tempo and dynamics of the score. The first part of the play relies on the furious Symphony No. 2 by Latvian composer Peteris Vasks while in the second part the final scene of Wagner's Siegfried warns about the background context of sexually and gender confused protagonists.

Branko Brezovec (1955.) diplomirao je kazališnu režiju na Akademiji dramske umjetnosti u Zagrebu. Od 2002. godine predaje na Akademiji, na Odsjeku za kazališnu režiju i radiofoniju. Režirao je u cijelome svijetu radeći na različitim žanrovima (opera, multimedijalni projekti, "metafizičke komedije" itd.). Služi se inovativnim dramaturškim sustavima koji spajaju različite i nedosljedne predstave u jednu cjelinu iz koje stvara različite kazališne simbole i aspekte s različitim znakovima i značenjima. Predstave: Jedan dan u životu Ignaca Goloba (1977.), Brecht 1917 (1985.), Zašto smo u Vijetnamu, Minnie? (1988.), Tri Nore čekaju Baala (1993.), Veliki meštar sviju hulja (2001.), Kamov, smrtopis / Moulin Rouge (2003.), Glembajevi (2007.), U agoniji (2008.), Salome (2010.), Ukleti Holandez (2013.) itd.

Branko Brezovec (1955) graduated in theatre direction at the Academy of Dramatic Art in Zagreb. Since 2002 he has been teaching at the Academy, Department for Theatre Directing and Radiophonics. Brezovec directed all over the world, working in different genres (opera, multi-media spectacles, "metaphysical comedy", etc.). He uses innovative dramaturgy systems that connect several different and inconsistent plays into one unit from which he builds different theater symbols and aspects with a variety of signs and meanings. Plays: A Day in the Life of Ignac Golob (1977), Brecht 1917 (1985), Why Are We in Vietnam, Minnie? (1988), Three Noras Waiting for Baal (1993), Grand Master of all Villains (2001), Kamov, Necrography / Moulin Rouge (2003), The Glembay (2007), In Agony (2008), Salome (2010), The Flying Dutchman (2013), etc.

Ravnodušnost zamjenjuje osjećaj prepoznavanja, ali mogućnost komunikacije nepovratno je izgubljena. Three women of different ages and backgrounds meet in the waiting room of an ophthalmologist's office. Overhearing the conversation between the two older women, the young woman Sasha learns of the tragedy one of them experienced. The indifference she felt until that moment is replaced by a sense of connection. However, the chance to share this is irreversibly lost.

Stogodišnja Nada i njezina sedamdesetpetogodišnja kći Vera imaju napet, ali blizak odnos. Djetinja Vera brine se za svoju nijemu, nemoćnu i često okrutnu majku. Jedne večeri u Nadinu sobu ulijeće šišmiš. Prisutnost životinje postepeno vraća starici izgubljenu snagu, drastično i fatalno mijenjajući odnos majke i kćeri.

Hundred-year-old Nada and her daughter Vera (75) have a tense but close relationship. The childlike Vera takes care of her mute and feeble, though at times cruel mother. One evening, a bat flies into Nada's room and finds shelter underneath her bed. Pjesnici Ingeborg Bachmann i Paul Celan upoznali su se u poslijeratnom Beču. Dramatična pisma koja šalju jedan drugome služe kao tekstualni predložak filma. Dva mlada glumca nalaze se u studiju za snimanje kako bi čitala pisma. Uhvaćeni su u vrtlog emocija povezanih s bliskošću i otuđenjem, fascinacijom i strahom. No istodobno uživaju u svojim raspravama popraćenima dimom cigarete i razgovorima o tetovažama i omiljenoj glazbi.

At center stage are the two poets, Ingeborg Bachmann and Paul Celan, who came to know each other in post-war Vienna. Their dramatic postal exchange creates the textual basis of the film. Two young actors meet in a recording studio to read letters. The tumultuous emotions of proximity and distance, fascination and fear captivate them. However, they also enjoy each other's company, arguing, smoking, discussing their tattoos and favourite music.

Nadahnut užarenom raspravom koja se povela oko dviju bijelih zastava koje su se iznenadno pojavile na Brukliinskom mostu, film se bavi pitanjem društvene vrijednosti umjetnosti danas. Što se događa kada se osjetimo ugroženima i umjetnost protumačimo kao opasnost? Jesmo li sigurni u gradu?

Inspired by the heated debate over the two "White American Flags" that suddenly appeared on the towers of iconic Brooklyn Bridge, the film asks what kind of societal scope art has in the present day. What happens when threatened freedom reinstates art with the element of danger? Are we safe in the city?

Mischa Leinkauf, Lutz Henke i Matthias Wermke odrasli su u 1990-ih u Berlinu gdje su naučili cijeniti i iskoristiti gradske mogućnosti. Spojio ih je entuzijazam prema prenamjeni urbanoga prostora.

Tek nekoliko djevojaka vježba parkour – trčanje po krovovima, penjanje po skelama, skakanje sa zida na zid. Dok Laura juri praškim ulicama, divljaju i njezine misli. Kada joj s vremenom na vrijeme vlastiti svijet postane previše, okreće se svijetu mašte.

Emancipirani film

Emancipated Cinema

"Ja ne shvaćam rad na filmu tako ozbiljno kao muški redatelji. Naprsto volim snimati filmove – snimanje je najveće iskustvo mojega života." Ta izjava, koju je Márta Mészáros dala 1977. godine, dijametralno je oprečna kritičkim prikazima njezina filmskog djela, pretežno usredotočenima na tematska čitanja u mimetičkom ključu, s naglaskom na tendencioznom tumačenju predočenih političkih, kulturnih, društvenih i rodnih pitanja. Zanemarujući, dakle, upravo onu ključnu dimenziju – naime, filmsko oblikovanje – koja te filmove čini djelima Márte Mészáros, koja se, upravo kao i mnoge njezine junakinje (recimo u filmovima Eltávozott nap / Sunce je zašlo, 1968., Szabad lélegzet / Oslobođenje, 1973., Örkbefogadás / Usvajanje, 1975., Kilenc hónap / Devet mjeseci, 1976. itd.) neprestano suprotstavlja svakovrsnim općeprihvaćenim mišljenjima, estetskim konvencijama i poetičkim propisima pa tako i onima kakve bi filmove trebale snimati redateljice, osobito pak one iz tzv. istočne Evrope. Film Szerencsés lányai (Kćeri sreće, 1998.) karakteristično je izazvao negodovanje jer tematika ruske prostitutke u suvremenoj Varšavi nije predočena u skladu s očekivanjima: rigorozan dokumentaristički modus kojime film započinje ubrzo se preobražava u maestralno snimljenu erotsku fantaziju. Mészáros je bila prinudena objašnjavati očigledno: da je takav prikaz "nužan, jer je to posao protagonistice, kao što prikazujem žene za strojem u svojim filmovima koji se zbivaju u tvornici." Društvena ili politička usmjerenost filmova Márte Mészáros nikada nije u prikazanome, već uvijek leži ondje gdje je preskriptivna kritika ne traži – u povratnoj sprezi istine i laži, ostvarenoj istraživanjem uvjeta mogućnosti prikaza. U tom smislu nije nimalo čudno što je povodom kanadske koprodukcije Bye Bye Chaperon Rouge (Zbogom, Crvenkapice, 1989.) iskazala olakšanje što je bila oslobođena nametnute političke odgovornosti pa se mogla prepustiti užitku čiste fantazije, svjesna kako ona u filmskom smislu nije ništa manje stvarna negoli dokumentarna snimka porođaja glumice Lile Monari uklopljena u film Devet mjeseci. Nerazdjeljivost dokumentarnog i fiktivnog u filmskom oblikovanju središnji je interes niza dijarističkih filmova – Napló gyermekemnek / Dnevnik mojoj djeci (1982.), Napló szerelmeimnek / Dnevnik mojim ljubavima (1987.), Napló apamnak, anyamnak / Dnevnik mojim roditeljima (1990.), Kisvilma: Az utolsó napló / Mala Vilma: Posljednji dnevnik (2000.) – u kojima se autobiografski motivi (recimo, Juli, protagonistica Dnevnika mojim ljubavima studira režiju na moskovskoj školi VGIK gdje je Mészáros diplomirala 1956. godine) i vjerodostojne kulturne i povijesne pojedinosti predučuju nijansiranom vizualnom teksturom (kako crno-bijelom u prva dva, tako i u koloru u potonjima), pri čemu pripovjedna samosvijest – autorica svoj narativni prosede izrijekom uspoređuje sa "sagom, obiteljskim romanom, u kojem se priče nastavljaju, likovi se vraćaju izmijenjeni, obogaćeni ili opterećeni povijesnim i osobnim iskustvima" – postaje sve složenijom predstavljači iskupiteljsku moć filmske fikcije. U toku svoje iznimno duge i plodne karijere, u kojoj je snimila nekoliko djela koja nesumnjivo spadaju u sam vrh svjetskog filma i u kojima su ne samo glumice – poput Marine Vlady (Ök ketten / Njih dvije, 1977.), Anne Karine (Olyan, mint otthon / Kao kod kuće, 1978.), Delphine Seyrig (Útközben / Na putu, 1979.) ili Isabelle Huppert (Örökség / Nasljednica, 1980.) – nego i njezin dugogodišnji partner Jan Nowicki (Dnevnik mojoj djeci, Dnevnik mojim ljubavima, Dnevnik mojim roditeljima, A magzat / Fetus, 1994., A temetetlen halott / Nesahranjeni pokojnik, 2004. i dr.) nerijetko pružali neka od svojih najboljih ostvarenja, Márta Mészáros opetovano je demonstrirala potpunu stvaralačku emancipiranost služeći se najrazličitijim, često i disparatnim, obliskovnim postupcima. Catherine Portuges u svojoj monografskoj studiji s pravom ističe "integritet njezine vizije, vladanje višezačnim i složenim emocijama, rigorozno odbijanje sentimentalnosti i prenaglašavanja", što podjednako dolazi do izražaja na planu sadržaja, prikazom kriznih intimnih stanja, kao i na planu izraza, uvođenjem prividno sporednih likova ili fabularno nemotiviranih prizora i osobito u redovito otvorenim završecima. Funkcija međuodnosa krupnih planova i detalja (često dijelova tijela) – koje je pretvorila u zaštitni znak svojega stila upravo kao što je njezin bivši muž Miklós Jancsó to učinio s dugim kadrovima – upravo je u tome da neprestano ukazuje kako dijalektički spoj prikaza i prikazanoga uvijek nužno nadilazi opreke od kojih se sastoji da bi postao nešto više – naime, film.

Tomislav Brlek

"I don't take filmmaking as seriously as male directors do. I simply love shooting films – shooting's the greatest experience I've had in my life." This statement made by Márta Mészáros in 1977 is in stark contrast to the critical surveys of her work in film, mostly focused as they are on thematic readings in mimetic key, with a pronounced emphasis on tendentious interpretation of political, cultural, social and gender issues portrayed. To the detriment of precisely that crucial dimension – i.e. film form – which makes these films the work of Márta Mészáros, who is, just like many of her heroines (e.g. in films Eltávozott nap / The Girl, 1968; Szabad lélegzet / Riddance aka Free Breathing, 1973; Örökbefogadás / Adoption, 1975; Kilenc hónap / Nine Months, 1976 etc.) constantly at odds with all sorts of received opinion, aesthetic conventions and poetic prescriptions, including those specifying what kind of films female directors ought to be making, the ones from the so-called Eastern Europe in particular. The film Szerencsés lányai (Daughters of Fortune, 1998) was characteristically denounced for failing to present the subject of a Russian prostitute in contemporary Warsaw in a manner deemed suitable to it: the rigorously documentary mode of the opening soon turns into a masterful erotic fantasy. Mészáros was forced to point out the obvious: such portrayal was "necessary, because that is the protagonist's work, just as I portray women at their machines in my films with a factory setting." The social or political thrust of the films of Márta Mészáros is never to be found in what is being shown, for it always lies where prescriptive criticism refuses to look for it – in the feedback that obtains between truth and lies, in its turn created by the exploration of the conditions of possibility of showing itself. It is therefore not surprising that on the occasion of the Canadian coproduction Bye Bye Chaperon Rouge (Bye Bye, Red Riding Hood, 1989) she should voice her relief for having for once been set free of the habitually imposed political responsibility and being able to indulge in pure fantasy, fully aware that as far as film is concerned it is no less real than the documentary footage of the actress Lila Monari giving birth, which she incorporated into Nine Months. It is precisely the indissoluble link of the documentary and the fictional that is foregrounded in a series of diary films – Napló gyermekemnek / Diary for My Children (1982); Napló szerelmeimnek / Diary for My Lovers (1987); Napló apamnak, anyamnak / Diary for My Father and Mother (1990); Kisvilma: Az utolsó napló / Little Vilma: The Last Diary (2000) – in which autobiographical motifs (Juli, the protagonist of Diary for My Lovers, for instance, studies film directing at Moscow's VGIK, from which Mészáros herself graduated in 1956) and faithful cultural and historical details are presented by means of a nuanced visual texture (black and white in the first two, and in colour in the latter ones), with narrative self-awareness – Mészáros likens her procedure directly to “a saga, a family novel in literature, where the stories continue, the characters return after certain changes, enriched or burdened with historic and private experiences” – becoming ever more complex displaying the redeeming power of cinematic fiction. In the course of her exceptionally long and successful career, which includes several works that surely belong among the most distinguished in the history of cinema, and in which not only actresses – like Marina Vlady (Ők ketten / The Two of Them aka Women, 1977), Anna Karina (Olyan, mint otthon / Just Like Home, 1978), Delphine Seyrig (Útközben / On the Move, 1979) or Isabelle Huppert (Örökség / The Heiress, 1980) – but also her long time partner Jan Nowicki (Diary for My Children; Diary for My Lovers; Diary for My Father and Mother; A magzat / Foetus, 1994; A temetetlen halott / The Unburied Man, 2004, among others) – often gave some of their best performances, Márta Mészáros repeatedly demonstrated her complete creative emancipation, using most diverse, even disparate, formal procedures. In her study, Catherine Portuges rightly calls attention to “her integrity of vision, consistent mastery of ambiguous and complex emotions, rigorous refusal of sentimentality and overstatement,” equally displayed on the plane of content, in the portrayal of critical intimate situations, and on the plane of expression, by means of habitual introduction of characters or images not readily integrated into the apparent plot, and in particular in the regularly open endings. The function of the interrelation of close-ups and details (frequently, parts of the body) – the hallmark of her style just as the long-shots of her former husband Miklós Jancsó are of his – is specifically to continually demonstrate that the dialectical relationship between the showing and the shown always of necessity sublates the oppositions of which it consists in order to become something more – namely, a film.

U središtu su radnje dvije žene: starija udovica Kata i djevojka Anna, koju nemarni roditelji smještaju u dom. Kata je u nesretnoj ljubavnoj vezi s oženjenim muškarcem i pomaže Annu da se oslobodi roditeljskog utjecaja. Anna se udaje, a Kata usvaja dijete iz doma u kojem je Anna nekad živjela.

The film zeroes in on two women: Kata, older and widowed, and Anna, a downtrodden young woman kept in a children's institution by her unloving parents. Her own sense of self-value strengthened by an unhappy love affair, Kata helps Anna break free from her family's influence. Anna gets married, while Kata adopts a child from the institution where Anna had previously dwelled.

Juli se 1947. godine vraća iz Sovjetskog Saveza u rodnu Budimpeštu gdje je s roditeljima živjela u egzilu. Obilježena traumama iz prošlosti, koje uključuju i gubitak roditelja, sa zgražanjem gleda na staljinističko ugnjetavanje u svojoj zemlji. Film je izraz duha i borbi iz prošlosti. Riječ je o strastvenom, ali kritičkom prikazu osobnog i političkog buđenja ispričanom na beskompromisno nesentimenalan način. Film je više od desetljeća bio pod cenzurom.

Juli is a young woman returning home to Budapest in 1947 from the Soviet Union where her parents were exiled and where they died. Scarred by the wounds of the past, she is repulsed to see the very same spectre of Stalinist oppression now rife in her homeland. Film resonates with the spirit and the struggles of her past – a passionate yet critical study of personal and political awakening told in ruthlessly unsentimental fashion. It was rejected by Communist censors for over a decade.

Nastavak filma Dnevnik mojoj djeci smješta radnju između 1949. i 1956. godine, odnosno počinje ondje gdje se prethodni film zaustavlja, a staje u izuzetno traumatičnom razdoblju za Mađarsku. Film daje iskren osobni prikaz pedesetih godina u Mađarskoj.

The sequel to Diary for My Children takes up where the earlier film left off in 1949 and concludes in 1956, a traumatic year for Hungary. Film represents another frank portrait of the 1950s from the Hungarian cinema, told from a personal viewpoint.

Imre Nagy, komunistički premijer od 1953. do 1956. godine, postao je simbol Mađarske revolucije koju je grubo skršila Sovjetska armija. Nagy i njegova liberalna vlada zalagali su se za to da gospodarstvo kojim upravlja država i njegove socijalne dobrobiti budu povezane s političkom demokracijom. Zatvoren je, no unatoč prisili nikada nije priznao radničko-seljačku vladu Jánosa Kádára. Pokopan je anonimno 1958. godine, nakon namještenog suđenja i pogubljenja. Godine 1989. napokon je pokopan uz sve državne počasti.

Thanks to his courageous stand, Imre Nagy (Communist Premier 1953 – 1956) became a symbol of the Hungarian Uprising, which was violently crushed by the Soviet Army. He and his liberal government urged that the state-run economy and its social gains be connected with political democracy. He was imprisoned, and despite violent coercion, he never recognized János Kádár's worker-peasant government. In 1958, after a staged trial and subsequent execution, he was buried anonymously. He was rehabilitated and his remains were reburied in 1989.

_25 Years of Croatian Film

Landmarks of Croatian Cinema

Program Kinoteka zamišljen je kao povratak u slavnu i bogatu prošlost Pulskog filmskog festivala. Koncept ovogodišnje Kinoteke bio je krajnje jednostavan – pozvati filmske profesionalce da odluče kojih je pet filmova obilježilo proteklih dvadeset i pet godina neovisnog hrvatskog dugometražnog filma. U potrazi za najboljim filmovima sudjelovali su članovi Društva hrvatskih filmskih redatelja, Hrvatskog društva filmskih djelatnika, Hrvatskog društva filmskih kritičara, Hrvatske udruge filmskih snimatelja i Hrvatske udruge producenata. Tražilo se pet, a pronašlo se sedam filmova (zbog jednakog broja bodova).

The Cinemateque Programme is envisaged as a return to the famous and rich history of the Pula Film Festival. This year's concept was rather simple. Film professionals had to decide which five films marked the last twenty-five years of independent Croatian feature film. Members of the Croatian Film Directors' Guild, Film Makers Association of Croatia, Croatian Society of Film Critics, Croatian Cinematographers Society, and Croatian Producers Association participated in the search for the best films. They were looking for five but ended up with seven films (due to an equal number of points received).

Tri priče, koje se događaju u jednoj noći, postupno grade sumornu sliku Ivinog života, ali i čitavog kraja koji je, jednako kao i Ivo svojim davnim zločinom, ostao zaustavljen i zarobljen ratom. Three stories taking place during a single night and dealing with Ivo in different ways, gradually give us a gloomy picture of Ivo's life and of the whole area which is stuck and imprisoned by war, as Ivo is by his crime.

Scenarij u fokusu

Screenplay in Focus

Od 1895. godine i početka filma pa sve do 2015. godine u Hrvatskoj je o temeljnoj sastavniči svakog filmskog djela, scenariju, objavljena tek jedna jedina knjiga, ona Branka Belana iz 1960. godine Scenarij – što i kako. Trebalo je proći još više od pola stoljeća ne bi li se dočekao priručnik Jasmine Kallay Napiši scenarij. U goste smo stoga pozvali četiri dobre poznavateljice scenarističke problematike: Jasminu Kallay, Rebeccu Lenkiewicz, Kate Leys i Jelenu Paljan. Na predavanjima, koja će pokriti osnove koncipiranja, pisanja, uređivanja, ali i promocije filmskog scenarija, svi zainteresirani dobit će odgovore na pitanja kako smisliti, a potom napisati scenarij za film koji će se jednog dana snimiti, a na kraju i rado gledati.

Since 1895 and the beginning of film up until 2015, in Croatia only one book was published on screenplay, the basic element of every film, and that was the one authored by Branko Balen in 1960 entitled Screenplay – What and How. More than half a century had to pass before Jasmina Kallay's screenwriting guide Write a Screenplay finally saw the light of day. This year's guests are Jasmina Kallay, Rebecca Lenkiewicz, Kate Leys, and Jelena Paljan. At these masterclasses, which will cover the basics of creating a concept, writing, editing and screenplay promotion, the participants will be provided with answers to questions how to come up with and write a screenplay for a film that will someday be produced and in the end watched with pleasure.

Sjećanje na izgubljene priče Remembering Lost Stories

Predavanje obrađuje temu pisanja o ljudima koji bi inače pali u zaborav. Govorit će se o procesu pisanja i o odnosu između koscenarista. Zašto čovjek piše? Odakle poriv da se ispriča priča? Uvijek pišem o osobama koje su outsideri ili o onima koji to nisu, ali se ne uklapaju u društvo. Pisala sam o slikaru Turneru, o sufražetkinjama, o časnoj sestri Židovki i o različitim ljudima koji se nisu mogli uklopiti. Govorit će o toj viziji i o tome kako pisati priče u suradnji s redateljem.

Rebecca Lenkiewicz napisala je brojne drame: Her Naked Skin, Soho – A Tale of Table Dancers, The Night Season i Shoreditch Madonna. S redateljem Pawelom Pawlikowskim napisala je scenarij za film Ida koji je osvojio brojne nagrade, uključujući i Oskara za najbolji strani film 2015. godine. Nedavno je napisala scenarij za film koji će režirati Kristin Scott Thomas. Trenutačno radi sa Steveom McQueenom i Rainmark filmom na drami za BBC.

The lecture will address the topic of writing about people who would otherwise be forgotten. It deals with the writing process and the relationship between co-writers. Why do people write? Where does the urge to tell stories come from? In my own experience, I always seem to tell the story of an outsider or someone who is inside but does not fit in. I've written about the painter Turner, the suffragettes, a nun who was Jewish, and various other people who didn't fit in with society's norms. I'll be talking about that vision and how to actually write the stories when teamed up with a director. Rebecca Lenkiewicz wrote plays: Her Naked Skin, Soho – A Tale of Table Dancers, The Night Season, Shoreditch Madonna, etc. Rebecca co-wrote Ida with director Paweł Pawlikowski which has won numerous awards including the Oscar for Best Foreign Language Film in 2015. She has recently written a screenplay for Kristin Scott Thomas to direct. She is currently working with Steve McQueen and Rainmark films on a drama for the BBC.

Palunko: Screenwriting Lectures

Kako započeti: Strukturiranje priče od ideje do treatmenta

Getting Started – Structuring a Story from Idea to Treatment

13. 7. 2016.

Imaš sto ideja za film, ali kako ih pretvoriti u scenarij koji drži vodu? Predavanje će se fokusirati na vježbe koje potiču kreativno razmišljanje i na praktičan će način približiti proces strukturiranja filmske priče.

You have 100 ideas for a film, but how to turn them into a screenplay that works? This lecture will focus on exercises that foster creative thinking and will take you through the steps of structuring a film story.

Alatke i tehnikе scenariističkog zanata

Techniques and Tools of the Screenwriting Craft

14. 7. 2016.

Film je umjetnost, ali scenaristika je ponajprije zanat. Da bi se usvojio zanat, potrebno je naučiti kako se koristiti scenariističkim alatkama i tehnikama. Ovo će predavanje kroz brojne filmske primjere objasniti kako funkcioniра dramatic ironija, nagovještaj, podmetanje i otkrivanje, prospekcija i retrospekcija.

Film is an art form, but screenwriting is primarily a craft. In order to master the craft, you need to understand how to use the tools and techniques of screenwriting. Through numerous film examples, this lecture will explain the workings of dramatic irony, foreshadowing, plant and payoff, flashback and flashforward.

Što dalje: Poticaji, radionice, producenti i pitching

What Next: Funding, Workshops, Producers, and Pitching

15. 7. 2016.

Napisao si scenarij – što dalje? Predavanje će obuhvatiti sljedeće teme: na koje se poticaje možeš prijaviti, kako zainteresirati producenta, koje su radionice korisne i kako najbolje pitchati svoj projekt.

You've written a screenplay – what next? The lecture will cover the following topics: what funding you can apply for; how to attract the interest of a producer; which workshops are useful and how to best pitch your project.

Jasmina Kallay je scenaristica, spisateljica i stručnjakinja za transmediju. Magistrirala je scenaristiku na Nacionalnoj filmskoj školi u Dublinu, a doktorirala u području interaktivne scenaristike na Sveučilištu u Dublinu. Njezin roman za mlade, Beat Girl, adaptiran je 2012. godine u dugometražni film i TV seriju koja je 2013. nominirana za Emmyja. Trenutačno razvija kriminalističku seriju United States of Europe u austrijsko-francuskoj koprodukciji. Umjetnička je savjetnica za Kreativnu Europu (Potprogram MEDIA) za film, TV i videoigre, a radi i kao script doctor. Godine 2015. objavila je Napiši scenarij (HFS/Palunko), prvi scenaristički priručnik na hrvatskom jeziku. Jedna je od osnivačica Saveza scenarista i pisaca izvedbenih djela (SPID), u kojemu je i članica Upravnog odbora.

Jasmina Kallay is a screenwriter, novelist and transmedia creator. She holds an M.A. in Screenwriting (National Film School, Dublin) and a PhD in Interactive Screenwriting (University College Dublin). Jasmina's YA novel Beat Girl was adapted in 2012 into a feature and a TV series which was nominated for an International Emmy (2013). She is currently developing United States of Europe, a crime TV series. She's an expert for Creative Europe (MEDIA sub-programme) for film, TV and videogames and she also works as a script doctor. In 2015 Jasmina wrote Write a Screenplay (HFS/Palunko) – the very first screenwriting manual in Croatian. She is one of the founders as well as a committee board member of the Croatian Screenwriters and Playwrights Guild (SPID).

Palunko je scenaristička platforma Hrvatskog filmskog saveza pokrenuta 2003. godine radi osnaživanja domaće scenarističke scene i do danas je, ne samo u Hrvatskoj nego i u regiji, jedini projekt takvog tipa. Palunko se tijekom svojih prvih dvanaest godina profilirao kao vodeći rasadnik nezavisnog kratkometražnog scenarija u nas i gotovo da među vodećim mladim imenima hrvatskog filma nema osobe koja nije prošla kroz neku Palunkovu radionicu, pitching i druge aktivnosti. Naglasak rada Palunka pritom je primarno bio na radioničarskim programima, industrijskim događanjima, promicanju scenaristike kao struke i produkciji scenarija novih, mlađih autora. Palunko se, i to kroz dva krovna projekta, od 2015. godine posvetio isključivo razvoju izvaninstitucionalnog i cjeloživotnog scenarističkog obrazovanja iz filma, televizije, transmedije i videoigara. Prvi je Scenaristička škola, dvosemestralni edukacijski program, a drugi je multimedijalni izdavački projekt Napiši scenarij u sklopu čega je nastao istoimeni scenaristički udžbenik, prvi u Hrvatskoj nakon više od pedeset godina.

Palunko is a screenwriting platform of the Croatian Film Association launched in 2003 with the aim of strengthening the domestic screenwriting scene. Up until today it has been the only project of the type not only in Croatia but also in the region. During its first twelve years, Palunko has established itself as a nursery of short length screenplays in Croatia and there is almost no one among Croatia's leading filmmakers who has not attended one of Palunko's workshops, pitching seminars or other activities. Palunko has always focused on workshop programmes, industry events, promoting screenwriting as an occupation and screenplay production by new, younger authors. Since 2015, Palunko has been committed to developing extra-institutional and lifelong learning systems based on film, television, transmedia and videogames, with its two umbrella projects. The first one is the Screenwriting School, a two-semester educational programme, and the second one is a multimedia publishing project Write a Screenplay within the framework of which the screenwriting manual of the same name was created, the first one in Croatia after more than fifty years.

Priča i scenaristika: pripovijedanje na filmu

Story and Screenwriting: Storytelling in Film

Pripovijedanje je najvažnija stvar kojom se čovjek bavi. U podlozi svakoga scenarija nalazi se priča. No što je priča? Čemu ona služi? Kako priče funkcioniraju? Razlikuju li se filmske priče od drugih priča? I ono najvažnije, kako scenaristi mogu primijeniti svoje razumijevanje priča i pripovijedanja na pisanje scenarija? Kate Leys urednica je scenarija zaigrane filmove na kojima radi u svim razvojnim fazama, od koncepta do preprodukциje. Vodila je razvojne timove u nekoliko produkcijskih kuća, kao što je, primjerice, Film4 gdje je bila dio malog nabavnog tima odgovornog za filmove Trainspotting, Četiri vjenčanja i sprovod, Siročad, Istok je istočno i Djevojka s bisernom naušnicom. Od 2009. godine vodi filmske radionice i mentorske aktivnosti za filmaše te organizira predavanja poznatih osoba iz svijeta filma kao što su Jane Campion, Mike Leigh, Sir Ronald Harwood, John Madden, Kenneth Lonergan i montažer Pietro Scalia.

Storytelling is the most important thing we do, as a species. And at the heart of a screenplay is a story. But what is a story? What is it for? How do stories work? Are film stories different from other kinds of story? And most importantly, how can screenwriters use an understanding of story and storytelling when they are writing screenplay? Kate Leys is a feature film script editor who works on film screenplays at all stages of development from first outline to pre-production. She has been head of development at several companies including Film4 where she was part of the small commissioning team responsible for films including Trainspotting, Four Weddings and a Funeral, Orphans, East Is East, and Girl with a Pearl Earring. She has run talent labs and mentoring projects for filmmakers since 2009 and has organised masterclasses from filmmakers including Jane Campion, Mike Leigh, Sir Ronald Harwood, John Madden, Kenneth Lonergan and editor Pietro Scalia.

Diskretni šarm klasične dramaturgije

The Discreet Charm of the Classical Dramaturgy

Predavanje o trima kratkometražnim igranim filmovima u kojima gledanje, pogledavanje i progledavanje čini narativnu os ili njezin vrhunac. Ustanovit ćemo kako se ona ostvaruje postupcima klasične dramaturgije. Jelena Paljan završila je studij montaže, a potom i dramaturgiju na Akademiji dramske umjetnosti u Zagrebu. Montirala je dva igrana TV filma, a kao scenaristica i koscenaristica radila je na filmovima Zvonimira Jurića, Marine Andree Škop i drugih. Trenutačno surađuje s Danom Budisavljević na dokumentarno-igranom projektu i s Dubravkom Turić na kratkometražnom filmu u sklopu igranog omnibusa.

In her lecture Jelena Paljan will talk about three short length films in which watching, looking and seeing make up a narrative axis or its peak and she will determine how this can be achieved by applying classical dramaturgy techniques. Jelena Paljan holds a degree in Editing and Dramaturgy from the Academy of Dramatic Art in Zagreb. She has edited two television feature films and she has worked as screenwriter and co-screenwriter on films by Zvonimir Jurić, Marina Andree Škop and others. She is currently working with Dana Budisavljević on a documentary feature project and with Dubravka Turić on a short film which is part of an omnibus.

Žene u europskom i hrvatskom filmu

Women in European and Croatian Film

Predstavljanje istraživanja koje je Europska ženska audiovizualna mreža (EWA) provela u suradnji s filmskim fondovima i sveučilištima u sedam europskih zemalja: Austriji, Francuskoj, Hrvatskoj, Italiji, Njemačkoj, Švedskoj i Velikoj Britaniji. Rezultati ukazuju na značajnu podzastupljenost redateljica u svim fazama proizvodnje i distribucije audiovizualnih djela. Ustanovljen je nerazmjer između broja netom diplomiranih redateljica koje bi trebale početi karijeru u audiovizualnoj industriji (44 %) naspram ukupne zastupljenosti redateljica koje rade u audiovizualnoj industriji (24 %). Režiju tek svakog petog filma potpisuje žena (21 %) i većina javnih sredstava za financiranje audiovizualnih djelatnosti dodjeljuje se filmovima koje režiraju muškarci (84 %). Istraživanje će predstaviti Holly Aylett s Fakulteta Birkbeck u Londonu, voditeljica istraživačkog tima, zatim Francine Raveney, donedavna izvršna direktorica EWA-e i Sanja Ravlić, predsjednica radne grupe za rodnu jednakopravnost Eurimagesa.

A presentation of the report on gender equality produced by the European Women's Audiovisual Network (EWA) carried out in collaboration with national and regional film funds and universities across seven European countries: Austria, France, Croatia, Italy, Germany, Sweden and United Kingdom. EWA's seven-country study finds significant under-representation of female directors in all stages of the production and distribution process: there is a considerable fall-off in the proportion of women graduating from film schools and entering the film industry (44 %) and the overall proportion of female directors working in the industry (24 %). Only one in five films is directed by a woman (21 %) and the vast majority of public funding resources (84 %) go into films that are directed by men. The report will be presented by Holly Aylett form Birkbeck College (University of London) and the head of research; Francine Raveney, former executive director of EWA and Sanja Ravlić, President of the Eurimages' Gender Equality Working Group.

Hrvatski film – online!

Croatian Film – Online!

Već se dugo uočava potreba da se osnovne informacije o sadašnjosti i prošlosti hrvatskog filma nađu na jednome mjestu, u online bazi podataka, dostupne (i) na barem jednom stranom jeziku. Postoji nekoliko takvih baza: Hrvatskog filmskog arhiva, HAVC-a, Filmskog saveza, HRT-a i dr., no ili su fragmentarne ili nisu javno dostupne. Ova inicijativa namjerava stvoriti jedinstvenu bazu na hrvatskom i engleskom jeziku. Svjesni ambicioznosti projekta, ali i njegove nužnosti, želimo započeti ovim okruglim stolom. Namjera nam je otvoriti teme o sadržaju, kriterijima, rokovima, financiranju i ostalim detaljima projekta.

For quite some time now we have been seeing the need to have all the basic information about the present and the history of Croatian film in one place, in an online database, available in at least one foreign language. Several entities have such databases, namely the Croatian Film Archives, Croatian Audiovisual Centre, Croatian Film Association, Croatian Radiotelevision and others. However, they are either fragmented or not publicly available. Aware of the ambitious scope of the project and its necessity, we would like to start with this round table. Our aim is to open the discussion about the contents, criteria, deadlines, financing and other details of the project.

25 godina hrvatskog filma

25 Years of Croatian Film

Od objavljivanja prve pisane povijesti hrvatske kinematografije Između publike i države Ive Škrabala (1984.) i njezina proširenog izdanja 101 godina filma u Hrvatskoj iz 1998. godine, u hrvatskom se filmu mnogo toga promjenilo. Kinematografija se, između ostalog, uspjela osloboditi izravnog utjecaja države, ali je hrvatski film s vremenom ostao i bez kina i bez publike. Istodobno je, testirajući svoje kreativne i produkcijske domete pred sve malobrojnjom domaćom publikom i na međunarodnim festivalima, nastavio potragu za vlastitim identitetom u okruženju kinematografija nekadašnjih jugoslavenskih republika i europskom kontekstu. Ovogodišnji festival na više će načina obilježiti četvrt stoljeća kinematografije u samostalnoj Hrvatskoj: retrospektivom najboljih filmova prema anketi članova svih nacionalnih filmskih udruženja i okruglim stolom o prvih 25 godina kinematografije u samostalnoj državi u suorganizaciji s Hrvatskim društvom filmskih kritičara. Filmaši, filmski kritičari i filmolozi pozvani su govoriti i raspravljati o sljedećim temama i pitanjima. Rezultati posljednje ankete o najboljem hrvatskom filmu posljednjih 25 godina. Što je u tom razdoblju honorirala domaća publika, što kritika, a što međunarodna kulturna javnost? Što pokazuje usporedba rezultata anketa, gledanosti filmova i festivalskih nagrada? Može li se reći da danas konačno imamo kinematografiju, a ne samo pojedinačne filmove? Postoji li kontinuitet između hrvatske kinematografije iz vremena Jugoslavije i one u samostalnoj državi? Pitanje reprezentacije ili izgradnje identiteta filmom i (prepoznatljiva) identiteta same nacionalne kinematografije; usporedba s istaknutim nacionalnim kinematografijama, osobito onima iz regije (rumunjska, grčka, mađarska itd.). Novi hrvatski film u postjugoslavenskom kontekstu: stilske razlike i preklapanja. Novi hrvatski film u odnosu na proklamirane smjernice i težnje "mladog hrvatskog" filma iz 1990-ih. Status starije i novije hrvatske filmske baštine u eri digitalizacije. Kako razvijati novu publiku novog filma? Treba li današnji hrvatski film kritiku? Kako i na temelju čega (re)konstruirati njegovu kritičku i općenito javnu recepciju?

Much has changed in terms of Croatian film since the first written history of Croatian cinema Between the Audience and the State by Ivo Škrabalo (1984) and its extended edition 101 Years of Film in Croatia from 1998 were published. Among other things, film industry has managed to free itself from the direct influence of the state but with time Croatian film has been left both without movie theatres and the audience. At the same time, it has continued the search for its own identity surrounded by the film industries of the former Yugoslav republics and the European context, testing its creative and production capacities before a declining domestic audience and at international festivals. This Festival will mark the 25th anniversary of film industry in independent Croatia in many different ways: with a retrospective of best films according to the decision of all national film associations and a round table focusing on the first 25 years of cinema in the independent country in collaboration with the Croatian Society of Film Critics. We have invited filmmakers, film critics and film scholars to talk and discuss the following topics and issues. Results of the last survey on best Croatian film in the last 25 years. What films have been acclaimed by domestic audience, what by critics and what by international public? What conclusions can be drawn when comparing the results of the survey, viewer ratings and festival awards? Can it be stated that today we finally have a film industry and not just individual films? Is there any continuity between Croatian cinema of the Yugoslav period and Croatian cinema in the independent country? The question of representation or building identity through film and a (distinctive) identity of the national film industry itself, comparison with distinguished national film industries, particularly those from the region (Rumania, Greece, Hungary, etc.). New Croatian film in the post-Yugoslav context: differences and similarities in style. New Croatian film in comparison with the proclaimed guidelines and aspirations of the "young Croatian" film from the 1990s. The status of the older and most recent Croatian film heritage in the digital era. How to develop new audiences of the new film? Does the current Croatian film need critics? How and on what basis can its critical and public reception be (re)constructed?

Filmovi za djecu i mlade na filmskim festivalima

Children's and Youth Films at Film Festivals

U Hrvatskoj je u posljednja dva desetljeća došlo do procvata filmskih festivala. Danas ih ima više od šezdeset. Pulski filmski festival, jedan od deset najstarijih filmskih festivala u svijetu, a daleko najstariji u Hrvatskoj, već treću godinu zaredom organizira susret najznačajnijih hrvatskih filmskih festivala radi poticanja međusobne suradnje, razgovora o zajedničkim problemima te isticanja pojedinačnih planova razvoja. Pojedini su festivali prije nekoliko godina uvidjeli važnost okretanja djeci i mladima i sada već imaju tradicionalne programe namijenjene tim dobnim skupinama. Nekolicina je festivala otišla i korak dalje te pokrenula nove specijalizirane festivale i revije gdje su filmovi za djecu i mlade u centru pažnje, a ne samo dio popratnih programa. Ovo je bez sumnje jedna od najsvježijih i možda najvažnijih tema na hrvatskoj festivalskoj sceni, a susret u Puli omogućiće festivalskim organizatorima i umjetničkim direktorima da podijele svoja iskustva u radu s djecom i mladima, o edukativnim elementima njihovih programa, načinu selekcije filmova itd. Onima, koji tek istražuju to područje i razmišljaju o otvaranju svojih vrata budućim gledateljima, poslužiti će kao temelj za razvoj. Kao potpora u isticanju važnosti razvoja nove publike, u Puli će biti i predstavnici Međunarodnog saveza europskih filmova za djecu (ECFA), čija je članica upravnog odbora Tanja Miličić umjetnička savjetnica Pulskog filmskog festivala. Autori službene špice te najznačajnije europske ustanove filmova za djecu, koja broji više od stotinu članova, prošlogodišnji su polaznici radionice Pustolovnog laboratoriјa profesora Baltazar. Sudjeluju Animafest Zagreb, Avvantura Film Festival – Film Forum Zadar, Dani hrvatskog filma, Festival mediteranskog filma Split, Festival novog filma Split, Festival tolerancije, Motovun Film Festival, Vukovar Film Festival, Zagreb Film Festival, ZagrebDox, 25 FPS.

In the past two decades, film festivals have started to flourish in Croatia. Today, there are more than sixty of them. For the third consecutive year, the Pula Film Festival, one of the ten oldest film festivals in the world, and by far the oldest one in Croatia, has been organizing the encounter of the most important Croatian film festivals in order to encourage cooperation, discussion about common problems and individual development plans. Several years ago some festivals became aware of the importance of focusing on children and young people and now they already have traditional programmes for that target group. A small number of festivals went one step further and launched new specialized festivals and revues where films for children and young people are in the spotlight and not just a part of side programmes. This is inarguably one of the freshest and possibly one of the most important topics on the Croatian festival scene and the encounter in Pula will enable organizers and artistic directors to share their experiences with respect to their work with children and young people about the educational elements of their programmes, selection methods, etc. This will serve as a foundation for development to those exploring that area and thinking about opening their door to future audiences. The representatives of the European Children's Film Association, whose board member Tanja Miličić also serves as Pula Film Festival's Artistic Advisor, will come to Pula to support the idea of the importance of new audience development. Last year's participants of the Professor Balthazar's Adventure Laboratory workshop are the authors of the official jingle of the mentioned most relevant European children's film institution with more than one hundred members. The following festivals will participate: Animafest Zagreb, Avvantura Film Festival – Film Forum Zadar, Croatian Film Days, Mediterranean Film Festival Split, New Film Festival Split, Tolerance Festival, Motovun Film Festival, Vukovar Film Festival, Zagreb Film Festival, ZagrebDox, 25 FPS.

Plakat suvremenog srpskog filma

Contemporary Serbian Film Posters

Izložba plakata suvremenog srpskog filma okuplja uglavnom filmove mlađih autora, koji su s uspjehom prikazani na festivalima u svijetu i regiji. Neki od njih posljednjih su se godina mogli vidjeti i u Puli. Izložba obuhvaća dvadesetak srpskih i međunarodnih plakata, a daje dobar pregled različitih modela privlačenja publike filmu, odnosno aktualne tendencije u dizajnu filmskog plakata. Izložba se održava uz posebnu zahvalu Filmskom centru Srbije.

The exhibition of contemporary Serbian film posters mostly gathers films made by younger authors that have been successfully presented at regional and international festivals. Some of them have been presented in Pula in the past few years. The exhibition encompasses some twenty Serbian and international posters and it represents a clear overview of different methods of attracting film audiences, i.e. current tendencies in terms of designing film posters. We would hereby like to express our special gratitude to the Film Centre Serbia.

Impromptu

Impromptu

Autor Mario Delić simboličnim naslovom izložbe Impromptu predstavlja niz neuvježbanih, spontanih trenutaka nastalih pri raznim projektima na kojima je profesionalno sudjelovao i u kojima su glumci, statisti i ekipa zatečeni u promišljanju scene, radnom naporu ili odsutnosti. Mario Delić (Zagreb, 1971.) filmski je i TV snimatelj i operater Steadicama. Djeluje na međunarodnoj sceni od 1990. godine. Na Pulskom filmskom festivalu predstavio se kao direktor fotografije na igranim filmovima Nit života (2000.), Duh babe Ilonke (2011.) i Nije sve u lovi (2014.). Potpisuje niz serijala i filmova, uključujući serije Dobre namjere i Ana Albi Dalili te dokumentarne filmove My Landmine i Calling the Ghosts. Za potonji s grupom autora dijeli nagradu Emmy za najbolji istraživački dokumentarac (1998.). Iako djeluje na filmu, fotografija ostaje osoban i neposredan način promišljanja i bilježenja svijeta.

With a symbolic exhibition title, the author Mario Delić presents a series of untrained, spontaneous moments created in the course of different projects he worked on professionally, where actors, extras and crews are caught considering the scene, working, being detached.

Mario Delić (Zagreb, 1971) is an internationally active film and TV cinematographer and Steadicam operator. He has been working in film and TV industry since 1990. He presented himself at the Pula Film Festival as a DOP on the films Thread of Life (2000), The Little Gipsy Witch (2011), It's Not All About the Money (2014). His credits include a number of serials and films, including the series Good Intentions and the Egyptian series Ana Albi Dalili, as well as documentaries My Landmine and Calling the Ghosts, for which Mario received an Emmy Award (1998) with a group of authors for Outstanding Investigative Journalism Programme. Despite being active in film, photography remains his very personal and first-hand manner of recording the world.

Renata Poljak: Partenza

Muzej suvremene umjetnosti Istre (Museo d'arte contemporanea dell'Istria) predstavit će tijekom srpnja i kolovoza samostalnu izložbu umjetnice Renate Poljak. Na izložbi će biti prikazane tri videoinstalacije: Ruta i spomenik (2008.), Staging Actors / Staging Beliefs, (2011.) i novi rad Partenza (2016.). Bit će izložena i autoričina recentna serija od 12 crno-bijelih fotografija. Poznata kao autorica koja u radovima propituje socijalne korelacije, pitanja identiteta i društvene posljedice tranzicijskog kapitalizma, Poljak se i na ovoj izložbi predstavlja društveno angažiranim radovima koji donose dubinsku analizu društvenih stanja i posljedičnih pojavnosti prvenstveno u hrvatskom, ali i u svjetskom sociopolitičkom kontekstu. Renata Poljak (Split, 1974.) diplomirala je 1997. godine na Umjetničkoj akademiji i stekla zvanje profesorice likovne kulture. Poslijediplomski studij završila je na Likovnoj akademiji E.R.B.A.N 1999. godine u Nantesu. Nastupila je na mnogim skupnim izložbama i festivalima, realizirala je brojne rezidencijalne programe, a dobitnica je i desetak značajnih nagrada. Izložba je realizirana sredstvima Upravnog odjela za kulturu Istarske županije, Ministarstva kulture Republike Hrvatske i Grada Pule. In July and August, the Museum of Contemporary Art of Istra will host an independent exhibition by Renata Poljak. The exhibition will comprise three video installations: Ruta and the Monument (2008), Staging Actors / Staging Beliefs (2011) and the most recent work Partenza (2016). The author's recent series of 12 black-and-white photographs will be presented as well. Known as the author who questions social correlations, identity issues and social consequences of transition to capitalism, she presents herself at this exhibition with socially engaged works that provide a deep analysis of social conditions and consequential phenomena primarily in Croatian but also in the global social and political context. Renata Poljak (1974, Split) graduated from the School of Fine Arts as an art teacher in 1997. In 1999, she completed her postgraduate programme at the Art School E.R.B.A.N in Nantes. She completed several residency programmes for artists in New York, Vienna and Paris. She has presented herself through a large number of group exhibitions and festivals and she has received about ten relevant awards. The exhibition is financed by the County of Istria Culture Management Department, the Ministry of Culture of the Republic of Croatia and the City of Pula.

FORUM Jasmina Cibic, Assaf Gruber

FORUM Jasmina Cibic, Assaf Gruber

Ovogodišnji program Forum strukturiran je kao konstelacija samostalnih prezentacija i donosi dvije umjetničke pozicije: Jasminu Cibic i Assafa Grubera. Na primjerima njihovih recentnih filmova, u maniri "pomnog čitanja", ispitivat će se različite umjetničke pozicije i prakse rada s pokretnim slikama te "novi narativi", koje otvaraju različiti oblici rada s filmom ili videom, a kojima se preispituju granice i mogućnosti reprezentacije, jezika, slike, prostora političkog govora, modeli produkcije, distribucije, prezentacije. Filmovi i videoradovi Jasmine Cibic formiraju se oko ideje arhitekture i diskursa koje ona proizvodi. Umjetnica u središte istraživanja smješta načine na koje arhitektura može postati utjelovljenje nacionalnih ideologija, identiteta i reprezentacija moći. Njezino stvaralaštvo, vezano za mjesto i kontekst, performativno je i koristi širok spektar medija ili kazališnih tehnika radi redefiniranja ili ponovnog razmatranja postojećeg okruženja i njegove politike. Film Srušiti i iznova graditi (2015.) sniman je u palači SIV-a u Beogradu, a formira se oko dijaloga četiriju ženskih likova, protagonistica koje utjelovljuju četiri ideološke pozicije kao varijacije Majke Države (graditelj nacionalnog identiteta, pragmatičar, konzervator i umjetnik/arhitekt). Filmovi Srušiti i iznova graditi i Nacija to voli – koji se prikazuju na izložbi – dio su trilogije Spielraum. Jasmina Cibic međunarodno je priznata umjetnica rođena u Ljubljani. Živi i radi u Londonu. Film Assafa Grubera The Right dio je kompleksnijeg projekta The Anonymity of the Night (Anonimnost noći) koji se fokusira na pitanja kako su političke ideologije subjekata premrežene s individualnim, osobnim pričama i kako oblikuju društvene odnose u okviru privatne i javne sfere. The Right u središte interesa smješta umjetnost i njezine institucije. Kratkometražni film, strukturiran kao monodrama, formira se oko pisma umirovljenog muzejskog čuvara Galerije starih majstora u Dresdenu ravnatelju Muzeum Sztuki u Lodzu. Umirovljeni muzejski čuvar jest 73. godišnja žena koja svoje stavove o umjetnosti i ideologiji izražava upravo pismom u kojem traži volonterski staž u poljskom muzeju, instituciji sa značajnom kolekcijom moderne i suvremene umjetnosti. Assaf Gruber (Jeruzalem, 1980.) živi i radi u Berlinu. Cinemaniac > Misliti film višegodišnja je istraživačka platforma koja propituje veze filma, pokretnih slika i suvremene umjetnosti, a od 2002. godine realizira se kao popratni program na Pulskom filmskom festivalu.

This year's Forum is a constellation of independent presentations and it brings us two art positions: Jasmina Cibic and Assaf Grubner. On the example of their recent films, similarly to undertaking a "detailed reading", we will analyse different art positions and practices of working with moving images and we will examine "new narratives", opened up by different forms of working with film or video, where boundaries and possibilities of representation, language, image, space for political speech, models of production, distribution and presentation are contested. Films and videos by Jasmina Cibic are constructed around the idea of architecture and discourse that she produces. The artist centres her exploration around the manners in which architecture can become an embodiment of national ideologies, identities and power representations. Her creative work is linked to a place and a context. It is performative and it uses a wide array of mediums and stage techniques in order to redefine and reconsider the existing environment and its policy. The film Tear Down and Rebuild (2015), shot inside the Palace of the Federation in Belgrade, centres around four female speakers. Each woman embodies a certain ideological position as a variation of the Mother State (nation builder, pragmatist, conservationist, and artist-architect). The films Tear Down and Rebuild and The Nation Loves It are part of the Spielraum trilogy. Jasmina Cibic is an internationally acclaimed artist born in Ljubljana. She lives and works in London. Assaf Gruber's film The Right is a part of the complex project The Anonymity of the Night which centres around the questions about the manner in which political ideologies of subjects are intertwined with individual, personal stories and about the way in which they form social relations within private and public spheres. The Right puts art and its institutions in the spotlight. The short length film, structured as a monodrama, is developed around a letter by a retired security guard at the Old Masters Picture Gallery in Dresden to the director of the Muzeum Sztuki in Łódź. The retired museum security guard is a 73-year-old woman who expresses her attitudes toward art and ideology in a letter by which she applies to volunteer in a Polish museum, an institution with a relevant collection of modern and contemporary art. Assaf Gruber (1980, Jerusalem) lives and works in Berlin.

Cinemaniac > Think Film, established in 2002 as a side programme of the Pula Film Festival, is a long-term research platform questioning the connection between film, moving images and contemporary art.

Učenički radovi Škole primijenjenih umjetnosti i dizajna Pula

Works by Students of the School of Applied Arts and Design Pula

Interes učenika prema mediju filma i videa odraz je vremena u kojemu žive, uče i rade pa je stoga i potpuno razumljiv. Iako Škola primijenjenih umjetnosti i dizajna Pula nema odjele koji se bave tim sredstvima kao temeljnom kategorijom, film, fotografija i video umjetnost ugrađuju se u nastavni plan kao dio suvremene nastave. Likovno promišljanje ishodišta je točka svega što se stvara i radi u školi bez obzira na medij izražavanja. Alati kojima se mladi autori služe često su plod samo edukacije na određenom tehnološkom području, od tehnike snimanja digitalnom kamerom, videomontaže ili posezanja za instrumentarijem konceptualne umjetnosti. Nadamo se da će naš ovogodišnji odabir videoradova i eksperimentalnih filmova za predstavljanje škole biti poticaj mladima da se (i dalje) bave filmom. (Davor Kliman)

Student interest in film and video is a reflection of the time they live, learn and work in and therefore it is completely understandable. Although the School of Applied Arts and Design Pula does not have departments that would cover those mediums as the basic category, film, photography and video art are part of the syllabus as part of contemporary educational system. Visual interpretation is a starting point of everything that is created or made in school, irrespective of the medium. The tools that young authors use are very often the fruit of self-education in a specific field of technology, such as digital camera shooting techniques, video editing or conceptual art instruments. We hope that this year's selection of videos and experimental films that present the school will serve as an inspiration to young people to engage in filmmaking. (Davor Kliman)

Pozor... snima se u Istri!

Attention... Shooting in Istria!

Pula kao filmski grad i Istra kao filmski poluotok najčešće se povezuju s filmskim festivalima. Ipak, mnogo prije početka naše najvažnije filmske manifestacija, filmske su kamere snimale Pulu i okolicu. Pula je svjetu filma podarila i prvakansu filmsku zvijezdu i izvanrednu glumicu: Alidu Valli. Bilo da se radi o lepršavim talijanskim koprodukcijama ili ozbiljnim američkim filmovima, Pula i Istra sačuvani su na filmu onakvi kakve su ih gledali veliki redatelji i glumci. Izložba se fokusira na one najpoznatije, manje poznate i potpuno zaboravljene filmske vrhunce, ali i neuspjehe koji su u svakom pogledu obogatili domaću filmsku povijest. Od Afrićeva filma Barba Žvane (1949.) preko Dugih brodova (1964.) pa sve do Željeznog križa (1977.), izložba će pulskoj publici ponovno otvoriti nostalgičan prozor u prošlost koja je, kao što vidimo, bila vrijedna pamćenja. (Daniel Rafaelić)

Pula, as the city of film, and Istria, as a film peninsula, are primarily associated with film festivals. However, long before our most significant film event was established, film cameras moved around Pula and its surroundings. Pula gave the cinematic world the first-class film star and exceptional actress – Alida Valli. Be it in breezy Italian co-productions or in much more serious American films, Pula and Istria have been preserved on film the way they had been perceived by great directors and actors. The exhibition focuses on the best known, less well known and completely forgotten film achievements but also on cinematic failures that have enriched our national film history in every possible way. From Afrić's film Uncle Zvane (1949) to The Long Ships (1964) and all the way to Cross of Iron (1977), the exhibition will open a window into, as we can see, a certainly memorable past. (Daniel Rafaelić)

P. S. Pula

P. S. Pula

Žanrovske raznovrsni i široj publici atraktivni, evropski i svjetski umjetnički vrijedni filmski naslovi niz su godina nerazdvojiv dio Pulskog filmskog festivala, a atrij Povijesnog i pomorskog muzeja Istre, popularni Kaštel, idealna lokacija za njihovo prikazivanje. Sve ostaje isto, prema dobroj staroj recepturi, samo se mijenja datum jer želimo da Pula diše festival i živi film i nakon podjele nagrada u Areni.

Diverse in terms of genre and attractive to a broad audience, artistically valuable films from Europe and worldwide have been an integral part of the Pula Film Festival for a number of years. The atrium of the Historical and Maritime Museum of Istria, the popular Kaštel, has always been an ideal venue for the presentation of these films. Everything remains the same, based on the good old recipe. The only thing that changes is the date because we want Pula to breath the Festival and live the film even after the awards ceremony in the Arena.

Pulica u kaputu

Pulica in a Coat

Pulicu, ljetno festivalsko izdanje filmskog i edukativnog programa za djecu, nije uvijek lako uskladiti s odlascima na more i egzotičnim putovanjima pa smo joj priskrbili šareni kaputić kako bismo se s njom i razigranim filmskim likovima družili i kad malo zahladici. Nije baš fer da Pulica, dok su djeca vrijedna u vrtićima i školama, spava zimski san poput nekog mede. Iako nema ništa ljepše od odlaska u kino s prijateljima, roditeljima, bakama, djedovima, tetama... dok vani prži sunce, prava je avantura biti u kinu s čitavim razredom ili vrtičkom grupom dok vani puše bura, a u kinu je fino toplo. Bez obzira na godišnje doba ili društvo s kojim smo u kinu, nikada dovoljno filmova koji otvaraju vrata u nepoznate kulture i šarolike filmske izričaje, koji se bave odrastanjem, obrazovanjem, prijateljstvom, ljubavlju, u kojima se otkrivaju tajne i istražuju misteriji, u kojima učimo kako poštovati različitost i prihvatići druge. Kroz film učimo o sebi i životu oko sebe. Osim filmova, Pulica u kaputu priprema i posebne radionice za djecu, poput onih za izradu optičkih igračaka i animiranih filmova. Odgojitelji i učitelji imat će mogućnost naučiti kako detaljno analizirati film i kako djeci na zabavan i njima pristupačan način približiti filmsku umjetnost.

It is not always easy to synchronize Pulica, the summer edition of the educational children's programme, with summer vacations and exotic travels. This is why we decided to provide Pulica with a colorful coat so as to be able to hang out with its playful film characters even when it gets a bit colder. It's not fair to have Pulica hibernating like a bear while children spend their time in kindergartens and schools. Although there is nothing better than going to a movie house with your friends, parents, grandmas and aunts when it is extremely hot outside, it's a real adventure to be in a movie theatre with your classmates when it's windy outside and warm inside. Irrespective of the season or the company, there are never enough films that open the door to unknown cultures and a variety of film styles centred on growing up, education, friendship and love, revealing secrets and investigating mysteries, teaching us to respect differences and accept others. Through films we learn about ourselves and the life surrounding us. Apart from films, Pulica in a Coat organizes special workshops for children, such as those for the construction of optical toys and animated films. Teachers will get the opportunity to learn how to analyse films in detail and how to familiarize children with cinema in an entertaining way.
